Voters Cannot Pay Taxes at Collector's Office

SCORES WAIT IN LINE FOR HOURS, MONEY IN HAND

Inadequate Force Able Only to Write Seven Receipts in Five Minutes.

NOT ENOUGH BLANK BOOKS TO GO AROUND

In Three Hours, While 1,200 Waited, Only 150 Could Be Supplied.

SOCIAL AMENITIES GIVEN PRECEDENCE

Clerks Will Chat With Friends While Perspiring Citizens Wait in an Office Far Too Small for the Crowds.

The non-payment of county taxes will prevent many a man from voting at the February election. There are hundreds of good citizens ready with the money and willing to pay. But Delinquent Tax Collector Samuel P. Connor does not seem to be in the mood to collect. He does not need the money. For several hours yesterday and the day before and other days previous to these a mob of men, women and children have battled—battled is the correct word—for positions at the counter in that dingy room on the third floor of the county court house. And only a small percentage have succeeded in paying their taxes.

Back of the counter there are four clerks; sometimes only three, or again only two. This variation in numbers is caused by luncheon engagements, interviews with friendly callers and other equally important reasons.

Only Three Receipt Books.

But no matter how many clerks are on duty, there are never more than three books of blank receipts. And it is really a most diverting spectacle to the taxpayer, who has been squeezed, shoved, pushed and pummeled in that perspiring throng for hours, to see an easy-going clerk await his turn at a blank book. There are some who say that it is for this reason that Collector Connor has not increased his force of clerks. There are not receipt books enough to go around.

Whatever the reason, there are many people who will not be able to vote this year. In the day and a half still remaining for the payment of taxes it will be impossible to receive the money for and issue receipts for taxes.

Can't Meet the Demands.

The three men and one woman that are writing the receipts cannot possibly meet the demands made upon them.

By actual count yesterday afternoon between the hours of 1 and 4 o'clock, when the doors of the office closed for the day, there were more than 1,200 people who came to pay taxes. In this same period of time not more than 150 receipts were issued.

Only those persons were successful who pushed right into the crowd and patiently submitted to the process of being rammed gradually up to the counter. The process was something akin to the experience one undergoes on a traction car about the time of the angelus—only a hundred times worse. The street car crowding continues only the length of the run.

Taxpayer Must Wait.

But the delinquent taxpayer must stick until the work is done. This sometimes required as much as two hours. One man succeeded in paying 33 cents at 20 minutes after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He had entered the jam at 10 o'clock yesterday morning.

"I should have been out of that mess long ago," he said afterward, as he wiped his perspiring forehead and hair with an already damp handkerchief, "but those fellows"—meaning the clerks—"play favorites right along. I have stood against that counter for an hour and not one of those blessed fellows could hear me shout 'Sixth ward.'

Picked Out Favorites.

"But again and again they would name some favorite away in the outer line and placidly fill his order right over my shoulder. Sometimes this easy fellow handed in a big bunch of orders and it was all off with us who thought ourselves in the king row until all these orders were filled out."

Every word of the above is fact. The writer "got into the push" and paid taxes. The gaining of a place against the counter meant nothing so far as material advantage was concerned. If the clerk saw friends or someone else who had rights above the common herd, his wants were attended to immediately, without regard to fairness or common justice to the person who had struggled honestly in his turn.

Many Not Registered.

The curious fact was also observed that in seven out of eleven cases the favored person was either not registered or applied merely for a "memo" of the amount of tax due. This was done so often and so persistently that one could

THIEVES LOOT JEWELRY STORE AT NOONTIME

Scores of People Were Passing When Robbers Made Their Escape With $3,000 Worth of Booty.

AFFAIR OCCURRED IN BUSY DUQUESNE STREET

Deed Had Evidently Been Carefully Planned and the Men Worked Leisurely, Making Their Selections from Every Part of the Store.

THE ONLY CLUE TO THE ROBBERS IS SLIGHT

Thieves robbed the jewelry store of J. Q. Barnes, in Duquesne, at noon yesterday. The men worked very leisurely, and, while scores of people passed by in the street, made good their escape with booty valued at over $3,000. The robbery was carefully planned, and in its details is one of the most sensational in the records of the county.

The Barnes store is in Grant street, one of the busiest in the little steel town. At noon Mr. Barnes locked up and went home for his luncheon. He was gone an hour. When he returned he found but little of his stock left.

He made an investigation at once, and what he learned astounded him. Mrs. J. V. Sumpter, who owns a grocery store next door, feels sure that she knows the men that committed the robbery. There were three of them, she says. She noticed them in the neighborhood yesterday afternoon and Wednesday evening. They displayed a great deal of interest in the Barnes store and studied it carefully.

Sentries Were Posted.

It is believed that but one man was in the store. The others were posted without as sentries. One is thought to have stood at the corner of Grant and Second streets, in the latter of which Barnes lives. He could have been seen easily there on his way back to the store.

Entrance to the building had been gained by unlocking the front door. Where the key was secured is a mystery.

The booty secured included diamonds, gold watches, bracelets, fancy and plain gold rings and stickpins. Every show case in the store was visited, and only the best goods taken. The safe, which was unlocked, was opened and several packages of goods that had arrived early in the day were taken, as well as a large number of watches that had been left at the store to be repaired.

The show windows were visited and a tray of diamonds and a tray of valuable gold watches taken.

The only clue to the robbers was furnished by Mrs. William LaRue, a colored woman, who resides near the jewelry store.

Running for a Car.

Mrs. LaRue was returning to her home a short time before 1 o'clock, and met a man wearing a light overcoat and slouch hat running for a car on the Monongahela traction lines. He carried a satchel, and as he passed Mrs. LaRue she says she heard a peculiar sound from it, as though jewelry was rattling in it.

The three suspicious men seen in the vicinity are described by Mrs. James Walsh and Mrs. Sumpter, both of whom live next to Barnes' store, as being well dressed. One of them answered the description of the man seen by Mrs. LaRue. He weighs about 200 pounds, is of medium height, and wears a light overcoat and slouch hat.

One of his companions is described as a man of middle age and wears dark clothing. The third member of the gang is said to be about 35 years of age, with dark hair and a small mustache.

Tried to Pass a Check.

The middle-aged man is said to have attempted to pass a check for $500 at the Monongahela Valley National bank, across the street from the Barnes store, yesterday morning. The cashier of the bank told him that it would be necessary to have some person identify him and he left to secure a business man, whose name he mentioned. His action attracted attention in the bank and the business man whose name he used at the bank stated that he knew nothing of him.

Barnes, after notifying the police of the surrounding towns, came to Pittsburgh yesterday to place the case in the hands of Roger O'Mara.

The robbery is similar in many respects to the robbery of the jewelry store of John Schmidt, in Sixth avenue, Homestead, 12 years ago, by the Fitzsimmons gang. Fitzsimmons cut a hole through Schmidt's building, and while Schmidt was out for dinner the store was entered through the hole and $2,000 worth of goods taken.

Detectives Gilkinson and F. A. Murphy found Fitzsimmons in a hut near Calhoun park, and in the fight that followed Gilkinson was killed.

CALEB POWERS SENDS A LETTER TO PITTSBURGH

Men Convicted of Goebel Murder First Met in a Prison.

COURTS OF JUSTICE USED TO OPPRESS

A resident of Pittsburgh, who contributed to the fund of the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune to enable Caleb Powers to obtain justice in spite of the determination of Judge Cantrill's court to convict him, has received this letter, which throws light on the situation in Kentucky and shows the need of a strong effort to uncover the whole truth and the real criminals:

Caleb Powers' Letter.

It is awful that courts of justice—courts organized to shield and protect innocent victims—should be turned into engines of oppression to cruelly harrass and basely outrage them.

When men who had never seen or heard of one another are jointly indicted as principals and accessories before the fact to the commission of the same offense, there is something radically wrong in the administration of justice. But for those men to meet for the first time in life behind prison walls, both convicted for participating in the same offense—one sentenced to life imprisonment and the other death, the infamy of it is so appalling in its nature that the whole civilized world stands aghast at such procedure. Such is true of James Howard and myself. We met for the first time in the Louisville jail, after we both had been convicted. At the time of the lamentable tragedy I had never met but two of the five alleged principals to the murder of Senator Goebel, and knew them but very slightly, and was never in any sort of a conference with either of them at any time about anything. And strange as it may appear to some, no one of the five men indicted as principals had the remotest connection with the large crowd of mountain people who came to Frankfort five days before the sad occurrence, and from whose coming it is vehemently claimed that the death of Senator Goebel directly resulted.

The Only Way.

But notwithstanding my entire innocence and notwithstanding an utter failure of proof to show that I had aught to do with the murder of Senator Goebel, still I have long since been convinced that the only possible way to insure my speedy liberation is to find out, and expose the guilty. In the Louisville Evening Post of March 24, 1901, is published an interview of one of its reporters with myself, and in which I said: "So long as it is not known who killed Senator Goebel, innocent Republicans will have to suffer for the crime, and the Republican party (in Kentucky) will suffer in popularity because of its alleged connection with it." * * * "The Republican party and those who vote with it are not in duty bound to run down the assassin of Senator Goebel. That devolves

JOHN MURPHY'S VICE ORDINANCE MEETS DEFEAT

Allegheny Councilmen Declared That Police Already Had Authority to Better Conditions.

GRANTS TOO MUCH POWER

Recorder John R. Murphy's vice ordinance was practically defeated when it came up in Allegheny select council last night. The measure empowered police officers to arrest or raid on view. Recorder Murphy stood sponsor to the ordinance and declared to the citizens' committee that without it the department of public safety was unable to control conditions in the city or to keep vice in check.

Samuel McElroy, John R. Henricks and Henry Staving led the fight against the measure. The burden of their opposition was that the present laws were sufficient; that the new one placed too much power in the hands of the police, and that to pass such a law was usurping the prerogatives of the courts.

President Goehring and John H. Trimble favored the ordinance. When the matter came to a vote, however, the words "on view" were stricken out and the measure was sent back to the public safety committee by a vote of 18 to 10.

KING BLIZZARD CONQUERED.

One Man Frozen to Death and Three Others Narrowly Escaped Death in British Columbia.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 16.—News reached here today from Nelson, B. C., of the great sufferings of three miners and the death of a fourth from exposure in the mountains of the Slocan district, 50 miles west of Nelson.

On January 4 J. P. Stevens, W. C. Thomas, S. Rockaway and M. Wall started across the mountains opposite Slocan City to visit the Bondholder claim. Before night they became lost in seven feet of soft snow drifted on the mountain top. They missed their way and spent three days of great suffering, caused by the extreme cold and biting wind of the worst blizzard on record in that section. On the fourth day Wall, Stevens and Thomas managed to reach camp, and at once sent back for Rockaway, who had been left exhausted on the trail. He was found frozen to death.

FOUR EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS STARTLED MEXICO'S CAPITAL

Thousands of People Rushed Into the Streets to Escape the Danger and Hundreds Knelt in Prayer.

DELEGATES ARE EXCITED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 16.—At the afternoon session of the Pan-American conference the Chilean delegates resumed speechmaking. Senor Alzamora of Peru had just risen to reply when a premonitory trepidation spread consternation through the assembly, and for nearly one minute afterward the gilded hall of sessions swayed like the salon of a liner. The delegates sprang from their chairs and grabbed their desks in alarm, but were reassured by the calmness of the Mexicans. The proceedings were interrupted for fully ten minutes. Members of the congress could see from the windows of the palace kneeling crowds on the plaza.

There were four distinct shocks. They were very sharp and buildings swayed perceptibly. Thousands of people rushed from offices and dwellings into the streets and many knelt in prayer. Telegraph poles were bent like trees in a gale of wind and massive buildings were shaken. Up to this time no casualties have been reported.

STEEL BOATS CHARGED MORE

Lake Carriers' Association Reduces the Membership Dues on Wooden Vessels—Resolutions Passed.

DETROIT, MICH., Jan. 16.—At noon today all business before the Ninth annual convention of the Lake Carriers' association had been transacted and the convention adjourned until the third Wednesday of January, 1903. The membership dues of all wooden boats under 1,800 net tons were today reduced to 2 cents per ton. This throws the burden of the association's expense on the owners of the steel boats, dues for which are 5 cents per ton.

The special committee which had been considering the matter of regulations for the lower Detroit river reported in favor of rules forbidding vessels approaching nearer than 500 feet to each other in those waters and forbidding a vessel to pass another bound in the same direction unless the overtaking vessel goes outside of the channel stakes.

DESPERATE BATTLE IN A MINE'S DEPTHS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

VICTOR, COL., Jan. 16.—A desperate battle 400 feet under ground between ore thieves and officers and trusted employes occurred in the Independence mine on Battle mountain today. Between 50 and 75 shots were exchanged between the opposing parties. Lee Glockner, a member of the company's force, was shot twice, but not seriously injured.

The first was most determined, but the thieves finally gained the upper hand and forced the company men to retreat toward the big shaft, giving the thieves an opportunity to escape. The management of Stratton's Independence Company of London, England, which owns the Independence mine, has been aware for a long time that rich deposits of sylvanite in the mine were being systematically robbed, the stealings amounting to thousands of dollars a month.

Detectives were employed, and it is said the thieves were detected in the act of looting a rich seam of ore. They escaped through the underground workings connected with an adjoining property.

QUAY DECLINES TO SUPPORT THE BOOM FOR ELKIN

Attorney General Told to Go to the Country for More Support.

BIG CITIES CANNOT ALONE ELECT HIM

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
605 Fifteenth St., N. W.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.

Attorney General Elkin, Auditor General Hardenbergh, Superintendent of Public Buildings Eyre, ex-State Senator Mitchell and the lesser Elkin boomers left for Philadelphia this afternoon not at all satisfied with the results of their efforts to induce Senator Quay to declare for the nomination of Mr. Elkin. They failed absolutely to secure even a pledge from the senator to support Mr. Elkin for the nomination. All that they secured was some good advice.

The senator told his callers that since his return from Florida he had received letters or personal calls from trustworthy Republicans, leaders in more than half of the counties of the state, protesting against the nomination of Mr. Elkin this year. His callers tried to ridicule this information, but the senator would not listen to their explanation. He said he had been through too many campaigns with a number of his informants not to know that they could feel the party pulse.

Advised to Go to the Country.

The choice of the Republicans of the state, he said, should be the choice of the convention, and he advised Mr. Elkin not to rely merely upon the organizations in Allegheny, Philadelphia and Lancaster counties to bring about his nomination, but to go out among the country people and endeavor to secure their support. If he could bring to his aid a number of the country counties his chances for the nomination would be greatly improved, as the country delegates, not the city delegates, would control the convention.

Mr. Elkin was shrewd enough to see the wisdom of this advice, and after the conference his friends said he would make a campaign in the country districts, and that he would carry enough of them to convince Senator Quay and the other leaders that he was really the choice of the rank and file of the party in the state. To the writer Mr. Elkin said he was satisfied with the situation and expects to carry off the prize.

Elkin Short Many Votes.

Another significant incident that developed here is that Mr. Elkin virtually has decided not to make a public announcement of his candidacy. Furthermore, he may never make one. Thus he will be in a position to win a draw at any time.

From one of the Elkin boomers it was ascertained that Mr. Elkin already claims 147 votes in the convention, as follows: Philadelphia county, 88; Alle-

SEEKING OPTIONS ON THE PROPERTY IN NINTH STREET

Values Along Thoroughfare Have Risen from $700 to $1,000 a Front Foot as a Result.

A WAREHOUSE SCHEME

Further information was received yesterday concerning the warehouse project in Ninth street and the Pennsylvania railroad's connection with the warehouse scheme. From property owners in Ninth street it was ascertained that options have been asked on every property in the west side of the street and for some properties in the east side. The price of property, which has been about $700 a front foot for the last few years, it was stated, had risen to $1,000 a foot.

Dr. E. S. Werner, who lives at No. 116 Ninth street, said that his lot had been optioned for the latter figure and that the option, which was made for 60 days, would expire February 20. Mrs. Elizabeth Bay, who owns the property at No. 114 Ninth street, stated that her property had been optioned for the same length of time. The property of Dr. Adolph Koenig at No. 122 Ninth street is also under option, he stated, but only for 30 days.

It is also known that a deal is well under way for the three lots at the corner of Penn avenue and Ninth street. Property owners were practically unanimous in the statement that during the last month one party had closed options on a number of properties near Fayette street, which intersects Ninth street between Penn avenue and Duquesne way.

It was also learned from Dr. J. Chris Lange, who lives at No. 129 Ninth street, that an option had been asked recently by several persons on his own property, but had been refused. He also stated that the property of the St. Andrew's Episcopal church, which adjoins his own, had been under option, but that the option would expire this month. From other sources it was learned that the warehouse projectors had secured an option on the plot owned by Arthur Kirk & Sons, which extends in Duquesne way from their powder store to the establishment of P. Duff & Sons at the corner of Garrison alley.

That this lot, which is vacant, is wanted for warehouse purposes is not improbable, since it is reported that the property in the rear of it on the opposite side of Fayette street, which is owned by John Pore, is optioned and that the tenants have been notified that they might be expected to leave April 1.

The Garrison lot, extending along Penn avenue a distance of 100 feet and having a depth of 160 feet, was reported to be under option for warehouse purposes. The lot is owned by Boggs & Buhl, and Russell Boggs admitted yesterday that a deal was on for the property, but that it had not been closed, and that there was no option on it.

A HOTEL CLERK THINKS UNCLE SAM IS EASY

He Has Put in a Bill for Expenses and Extras That Amounts to Over $70 a Day.

RATHBONE ON THE STAND

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, Jan. 16.—The matter of the expenses of the witnesses who have been brought here from the United States to testify in the postoffice fraud cases is now worrying the postoffice officials. The clerk of a New York hotel, one of the witnesses who was brought here to show that Rathbone had lived extravagantly while at his hotel, has put in a bill to the government of $40 a day for expenses, while the extras charged bring the total for two weeks to about $1,000.

During today's hearing Rathbone was questioned further relative to the furnishing of his residence in El Cerro, Havana, from the postal funds. He said he could not have been expected to furnish his official residence from private funds, that he had not known how long he was going to remain in Cuba and that Gen. John R. Brooke, ex-military governor of Cuba, and Gen. William Ludlow, ex-military governor of the city of Havana, had furnished their official residences from government funds.

Rathbone said his superiors knew of his expenditures in this respect and had not made objections thereto and that these bills were only for moneys spent for house furnishing and not on his private account. The examination of a bill from a New York department store showed that 50 pairs of hose, which it was alleged Rathbone bought for his private use, read 50 feet of hose. In most of the incidents taken up during Rathbone's examination it was only a question of whether he had been authorized to make the expenditures in question, and there was a lack of evidence showing criminal intent.

SECURED LITTLE BOOTY.

Seven Masked Men Held Up a Train Successfully, But Only Found $3 for Their Pains.

FT. SMITH, ARK., Jan. 16.—The southbound Kansas City Southern passenger train No. 1, which left Kansas City yesterday at 11 a. m., was "held up" last night at 11 o'clock half a mile north of Spiro, I. T., by seven masked men.

The robbers flagged the train between Spiro and Redland. While two of the seven men covered the engineer and fireman with revolvers others forced a porter who had appeared on the steps of the forward coach, to uncouple the baggage car from the rest of the train.

John Block, a traveling salesman from Ft. Smith, alighted from the train and was about to fire upon one of the robbers, when he was prevented by Conductor Sullivan, who feared that the men would fire into the passenger coaches. The baggage car uncoupled, the engineer was compelled to pull up the road a distance of one mile. There the robbers, after disarming the messenger, went through the baggage and mail cars. Their work finished, one of the robbers handed the messenger the revolver taken from him, and all made for the timber.

Postoffice officials here deny that any registered mail was taken, and the express officials say that one package containing $3 covers their loss.

DEMOCRATS IN OHIO WILL START ALL OVER AGAIN

Meeting Held in Columbus Yesterday to Put New Life in the Party.

WABBLY POLICY DECRIED

John J. Lentz Says That a Decided Stand Must Be Taken and Lived Up To—Three-Cent Fares and Municipal Ownership Advocated.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16.—Democrats from all over the state gathered in Columbus today to talk over the condition of the party and attempt to put some plan into effect that would put life into the disheartened rank and file of the organization.

The meeting was called some days ago by W. J. Frey of Findlay, chairman of the state central committee, and about 50 of the leaders of the party in the state responded to the invitation. Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, John J. Lentz of Columbus, Lewis G. Bernard of Cincinnati, representing John R. McLean, and Charles W. Baker of Cincinnati, the Hon. John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, the Hon. Lew Brucker, Negley G. Cochran of Toledo and many other prominent Democrats were in attendance.

In calling the meeting to order Chairman Frey stated that it was proposed to establish permanent headquarters in Columbus to be open the year round and to put them in charge of the secretary to be chosen by the committee. His duties would be to watch over the interests of the party, look out for the mistakes of Republicans, observe the course of legislation, furnish material to the country press and compile lists for the use of the campaign committee.

Many Speeches Made.

There were a large number of speeches made. All indorsed the plan, but differ in details. Mayor Johnson wanted the meeting to adopt a platform on which the party could go before the people of the state. He said that the reforms proposed in taxation would be a good one, and wanted the central idea to be that no one should have special privileges.

John J. Lentz followed with a speech in which he wanted a platform of 3-cent fares, municipal ownership and taxation reform. He said that "so long as the Democratic party in Ohio cringed, crawled, wabbled and wavered in its platform and refused to take a decided stand on any question, so long would it be defeated, and deserved to be. We must stand for something, and not take a position this year only to abandon it the next." The meeting refused to make any declaration of principles, agreeing to leave that to the next state convention. Several times the ghost of Bryanism reared its head, but was put down with a firm hand.

Headquarters at Columbus.

The state central committee at a meeting held after the adjournment of the conference agreed upon a plan of permanent organization with headquarters in Columbus. A secretary was not elected but was left to the selection of a committee. H. Garber of Columbus was selected as chairman of the permanent ~~[illegible]~~ organization and will open headquarters next week and turn them over to the secretary when one is selected. Twenty-five prominent Democrats pledged the funds to carry on the work for the first year. The committee having the headquarters and plan of organization in charge is made up of followers of Tom L. Johnson, so that it would appear that Johnson had obtained control of the party machinery. Contributions will be solicited from all the Democrats of the state and not from the moneyed men of the party alone.

A systematic campaign will begin at once. In speaking of the financial affairs of the party Mr. Baker, late Democratic candidate for United States senator, said: "The Democratic party has lain at the gates of the city long enough, licking its sores and depending on the crumbs that fall from the tables of the rich. We must change all this."

Trouble in Sight.

There is promise of much trouble when the committee to select the members of the senate committees reports next Monday. The first of this week it was stated that all these committees were made up and would be ready to announce at once. Then there came a change and Chairman Harding said that the committees would be reported Wednesday.

SCORES WAIT IN LINE FOR HOURS, MONEY IN HAND

not fail to deduct a purpose in it, that of causing all the delay possible.

At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the room was crowded with eager people awaiting their turn. Four clerks were on duty, all having taken lunch, except one. That one left at the hour named. Three remained for 15 minutes. Then entered a person who from the rear asked the privilege of an interview with one of the clerks. The latter dropped his work at once to join his friend, who awaited him in the corridor.

Meeting Was Joyous.

It was a glad meeting. The pair had not met since the day before. But there was so many functions of a social order requiring discussion. And the two friends sat on a window ledge and chattered while the people waited.

Inside the room the crowd still battled. Only two clerks were now at work, and the process of giving out receipts grew proportionately slower.

When the socially inclined clerk returned he had a bundle of blank orders in his fist. Where he got them nobody seemed to know. The fact, however, started a lot of conversation in the distressed crowd outside the counter, much of which was uncomplimentary to the clerk and the methods of the office, some of it absolutely unprintable.

An Old Man's Surprise.

"B'gosh, I don't see how them fellers earn their money," said an old man. "I've been stuck here against the counter for one hour an' a half, and no one seems able to hear me say 'Humwood.' I've counted the receipts one feller has written since I have been hyar and it was only seven. If I had this thing to do over again you wouldn't ketch me hyar. Now that I am hyar, I'll see it through, if for no other reason than to find out when they'll git to me—I say, Humwood! Humwood! Missed me again."

The clerk who went out to eat came back at 2:20. It was a hearty and a good meal he had. At least that's what he told a fellow clerk. This required some time, because he had to show and demonstrate the virtues of a fat cigar, evidently one of the adjuncts of the lunch.

Some Unkind Thoughts.

Some people outside the counter, especially those whose anatomy was so flattened that further use of a stomach or appetite seemed improbable, were unkind enough to say that the young man acted as if he had never seen a good meal or a cigar before.

Finally everything got to working in its accustomed order. There were four clerks and three blank receipt books. Between them they managed to turn out an average of one tax receipt every two or three minutes.

For an hour the rate was about two in every five minutes. This would sum up 24 receipts an hour, or 168 for the working day of seven hours, between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

Clerical Force Inadequate.

It was afterward observed that this ratio was maintained during several hours. It was demonstrated beyond all question that the clerical force was altogether inadequate. Many people gave up the notion of trying to pay their taxes, though all remained long enough to study the situation. Some said they would try again today or Saturday, but many asserted they would not come again.

The prospect of undergoing punishment in a stifling room and a wait of several hours in addition will keep many persons away from the polls in the coming election.

It is impossible to say how many there are who have so far failed to get tax receipts, but judging from the crowd that kept coming and going yesterday their numbers must aggregate several thousand at least. From the number of those who succeeded in paying a rough estimate of those who will fail may be made up. At the rate of 168 a day, with only a day and a half remaining the disappointed ones will sum up into many hundreds.

And these disappointed ones will affect the county election in a very important degree.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT LIGHTS IN TUNNEL DISREGARDED

Evidence at Coroner's Jury Goes to Show That Officials Knew All About the Danger.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The coroner's inquest to determine the responsibility for the death of 17 persons in the New York Central railway tunnel last week was begun today. Coroner Sholer presided. District Attorney Jerome and attorneys representing the various interests at stake were in attendance.

The district attorney addressed the members of the jury, saying in part: "It may be that there were one or more persons criminally responsible for the deaths of the victims of this disaster. It is your duty to say whether these victims came to their deaths through criminal negligence of some person. This is your province and if you go beyond it you yield perhaps, to public clamor and you do not thereby aid the cause of justice."

During the afternoon session Joseph H. Franklin, manager of the Grand Central depot, was on the stand. The district attorney questioned him. He admitted that he had received many complaints from trainmen regarding the signal lights in the tunnel. These men had called his attention to the fact that on foggy days the lights could be seen only a very short distance.

"So especially during the winter months in New York," District Attorney Jerome asked, "there are many days on which the signals in the tunnel can be seen only a very short distance?"

The witness admitted that this was the case. On the day of the wreck, however, he said he considered that conditions were very favorable. He said that 323 schedule trains ran through the tunnel every day. Mr. Franklin said he was under the orders of President Newman, of the New York Central, and President Hall, of the New York, New Haven & Hartford road. He said he had spoken to them about the tunnel lights when they had taken him to task about trains being late. Nothing in particular, he said, had been done about the complaints of the engineers concerning the lights. Manager Franklin also admitted that the murky morning on which the disaster occurred was the first time Engineer Wisker had taken a passenger train through the tunnel.

Sullivan of Coshocton; secretary-treasurer, G. W. Savage of Columbus; member of the national executive board, William Morgan, of East Greenville.

PAY YOUR TAXES AND CAST YOUR VOTE.

All taxes must be paid on or before tomorrow noon. That is the last day on which a tax receipt can be issued that will qualify a citizen to vote at the February city election. Voters will do well to give their immediate attention to this, for the law says no man can vote who has not paid a state or county tax within two years and at least thirty days before election day.

KING DELIVERS THRONE SPEECH IN GOOD VOICE

Refers Briefly to the Isthmian Canal Treaty With the United States.

A GORGEOUS CEREMONIAL

Members of the Royal Family Seem in Good Health—Debate Opens in Both Houses—The Liberal Leader Springs Irish Question.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Jan. 16.—King Edward opened parliament today with much pomp and ceremony. Last year's opening, the first of his reign, was robbed of much splendor by reason of the court mourning, but today's ceremonial showed but few traces of that period of sorrow.

The route of the royal procession, though less than a mile long, was lined with more than 4,000 troops and 1,000 policemen, who formed solid walls between which the king and queen passed. King Edward, who smiled and bowed most affably to right and left, looked the picture of health. There certainly were no evidences of any care or worry on his countenance, and he seemed in high good humor with himself. The queen also looked charming.

Lord Salisbury was in a brougham, huddled up in a corner and well wrapped.

Brought Their Robes with Them.

Peers and members of the house of commons kept arriving on foot. It was funny to see the way many of them brought their robes. For instance, Lord Coventry carried his in a brown paper parcel, while Lord Beauchamp carried his uncovered on his arm. So far as I could make out, Lord Roberts came in an ordinary railroad four-wheeler. John Burns was easily distinguishable among the crowd as he pushed his way through, wearing a blue suit and a soft felt hat.

Inside, in the royal gallery, there was any number of small folk. Here I saw Lady Newborough, who was an American, Miss Carr, and, it may be remembered, was married last year.

Entrance of King and Queen.

In a very stately manner the king and queen appeared, his majesty holding the queen's hand and smiling to many of his friends as he passed along. The king really looked in splendid health and spirits, but I thought the queen looked rather pale. She, too, seemed delighted and had many a pleasant smile and nod for those whom she knew.

I noticed that the queen wore a high dress of black satin, and all the same jewels she wore last year, except a superb pearl necklace, which formerly belonged to the late queen. She wore her diamond crown very far back on her head, with a large diamond drop falling on her brow.

Immediately behind came the duchess of Buccleuch, mistress of the robes, and Lady Antrim, while Lady Alice Stanley, who never looked better, followed in the rear.

Speech from the Throne.

The following is a part of the king's speech.

Since the close of the last session of parliament I have had the happiness to welcome back the Prince and Princess of Wales on their return from a lengthened voyage to the various parts of my empire. They had everywhere been received by demonstrations of the liveliest affection and I am convinced that their presence has served to rivet more closely the bonds of mutual regard and loyalty by which the vigor of the empire has been maintained.

My relations with the other powers continue to be of a friendly character. I regret that the war in South Africa has not yet been concluded, though the course of operations has been favorable to our arms, the area of the war has been largely reduced and the industries are being resumed. In spite of the tedious character of the campaign, my soldiers have, throughout, displayed a cheerfulness in the endurance of the hardships, incident to the guerrilla warfare, and a humanity, even to their own detriment, in the treatment of the enemy, which was deserving of the highest praise.

The necessity of relieving those of my troops who most felt the strain of the war has afforded me the opportunity of again availing myself of the loyal and patriotic offers of my colonies, and further contingents will shortly reach South Africa, from the Dominion of Canada and the commonwealths of Australia and New Zealand.

I concluded with the president of the United States a treaty, the provision of which will facilitate the construction of an interoceanic canal, under the guarantees that its neutrality be maintained, and that it be open to the commerce and shipping of all nations.

I concluded a treaty with the president of Brazil, referring to arbitration the questions relative to the frontier of British Guinea and Brazil. I take much pleasure in stating that the king of Italy has consented to act as arbitrator.

The King in Good Voice.

The king's voice during the delivery of the address was strong, almost strident. It was easily heard throughout the chamber. The exit of the royal party was as elaborate as its entry, similar ceremonies being observed.

Irish affairs cropped up almost immediately in the house of commons, Earl Percy, Conservative, moving a resolution that the election from Galway of Col. Arthur Lynch, "who was commonly and notoriously reported to have aided the king's enemies," was an insult to the house, and a committee should be appointed to consider the course to pursue."

After the speech from the throne had been formally read in the house of commons and the address in reply had been moved and seconded, the Liberal leader, Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, spoke in general terms against the course of the government in South Africa, urging conciliation in place of brute force.

Raised the Irish Question.

He said the same, to a large measure, is true of Ireland, where the government at present is "floundering between concession and coercion," and urged the adoption of the most liberal program toward Ireland.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal, attacked the institution of martial law in Cape Colony, which drew out a sharp reply from Mr. Chamberlain.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Chamberlain was protesting against the suggestion that he should overrule the privy council, when Mr. Redmond interjected: "Hear! hear! You ought to be king!" Amid laughter Mr. Chamberlain replied: "That is very good of the honorable gentleman, but that is not my ambition."

Proceedings in the Lords.

In the upper house Lord Lytton, son of the poet-diplomatist, seconded the address in reply to the speech from the throne. In a speech which drew high praise from Lord Rosebery as "by far the ablest he had ever head upon such an occasion," he gave an early touch of distinction to the proceedings. Earl Spencer spoke for the Liberals in the absence of the earl of Kimberley, who is ill.

LAWYER KILLED BY TRAIN.

He Had Been Married but Two Weeks—Some Suggestion of Suicide.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 16.—George N. Frazine, 41 years of age, a lawyer, was struck and instantly killed by a West Shore passenger engine at Towanda today. He had just left a Buffalo train and stepped in front of the West Shore engine, which was going in the opposite direction. His body was badly mangled.

Some witnesses say that Frazine deliberately threw himself in front of the engine. He came here from Sugar Grove Pa., eight years ago. He was married two weeks ago.

upon the prosecution in this case, but the prosecution has not done it, and in all probability will not do it. That being true, the Republican party will either have to do it or permit itself and its innocent members to suffer by reason of it."

In the Lexington Leader of June 27, 1901, will be found a letter I addressed to Mrs. Orlando Brown, secretary of the Woman's league, and in which I said: "In my judgment the slayer of Mr. Goebel can be found; provided skilled and reliable detectives are employed for that purpose. Until this is done in all probability innocent men will have to suffer for the deeds of another. We (Mr. Howard and I) would have long since ferreted out this crime had we been financially able to have done so."

Innocent Still Suffer.

All this occurred long before my last trial and conviction. The innocent still suffer and the murderer of Senator Goebel is still unknown. The record in my case has been ordered. The appeal will be prosecuted. My attorneys feel confident of a reversal and your large donation and whatever other money I receive from a justice-loving public will be used in preparing for my next trial and in an earnest endeavor to expose the guilty in order that the innocent may be liberated. So long as the facts surrounding the taking off of Senator Goebel are shrouded in mystery, so long will the cause of Republicanism and Republicans in Kentucky suffer.

It is true that many, many, many generous-hearted Kentuckians of both parties have long since responded freely to the cause of the helpless—the suffering innocent—but continued drains in party emergencies, the responding to numerous appeals since the many and expensive so-called trials of the Goebel suspects first begun, have to a great extent placed it beyond the power of diverse Kentuckians to do that which their hearts most desire. And if, through the contributions of our northern neighbors, the truth is made known in this case—all the innocent resting under the shadow of suspicion, all those who have been dragged over the country in chains and branded and arraigned as criminals, and under the forms of law convicted as murderers in order to further party supremacy and satiate the greed for gold, will again be restored to their liberty, their rights and privileges as freemen—and a genuine service will have been done the good name of Kentucky, the cause of justice and the cause of humanity.

It will be to us an unestimable blessing, and to them an ineffaceable monument to their services to their country. I am, sincerely,

CALEB POWERS.

HOWARD PRESENTS ALIBI.

Says He Was at the Board of Trade When Goebel Was Murdered.

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 16.—James Howard took the stand in his own defense this afternoon, being the first witness called on that side. At the forenoon session Judge Thomas R. Gordon made the opening statement for the defense. He paid a high tribute to the personal and political character of William Goebel, and was severe in his arraignment of ex-Gov. Taylor and Caleb Powers.

He contended that his client, the defendant, however, was innocent. Howard's defense in the present, as in the former trial, is an alibi. He swore he was in the Board of Trade hotel when Goebel was shot, talking to friends. He said he went to the state house the first time that afternoon. He says he was clean shaven, and denied that he exhibited any cartridges to W. H. Culton.

Howard was still on the stand when court adjourned for the day.

BIDS WILL BE ASKED ON FILTRATION PLANT

City Will Advertise for Them This Morning—Another Bond Issue Will Be Necessary.

Proposals for the first contract for the filtration plant will be advertised for this morning. This contract, designated as No. 1, will be awarded on February 24, if the bids submitted are satisfactory to Recorder J. O. Brown and Director J. G. McCandless of the department of public works.

For the purpose $1,500,000 has been set aside from the $2,500,000 obtained from the bond issue to establish the plant.

This leaves $1,000,000 for the smaller contract, but Director McCandless believes $1,000,000 more will be required to follow out the recommendations of the filtration commission. Speaking of this yesterday he said:

"I think the plant will take about a third of the whole amount of the cost estimated by the commission, in addition to the money obtained by the bond issue to complete the big work. This is due to the increased cost of labor and materials since the commission figured out the probable cost more than to anything else. The additional money will probably have to be raised by bond issue."

The specifications for contract No. 1 are now in the hands of the printer, but Director McCandless expects to have them ready today for distribution among contractors who are prospective bidders. They are published in paper book form for convenience sake and because they are quite bulky.

Director McCandless says he looks for a number of contractors to compete for the job, judging from the inquiries the department has received in relation to the time they will be ready. Director McCandless has fixed February 24 as the date for opening the bids, and as that is more than a month hence, he thinks ample time is allowed bidders to study the specifications and prepare their proposals.

Contract No. 1 includes the construction of the two sedimentation basins, 25 filter beds and pure water reservoir, together with all pipes and appurtenances. No. 2 contract, which Director McCandless says will not be let for some time, includes the tunnel under the river to Brilliant pumping station, the necessary pumps for elevating the purified water to the distributing reservoirs and the necessary rising mains.

gheny county, 37; Lancaster county, 19; Berks county, 8; Carbon county, 2. One hundred and seventy-two votes nominate.

Senator Quay will give a dinner next Wednesday night in honor of Attorney General Knox. It will be strictly a Pennsylvania affair, the other guests being Senator Penrose and the 30 representatives of congress from Pennsylvania. Mrs. Quay, assisted by her daughters, received for the first time this season this afternoon and had many callers.

Indian Incantation for Quay's Health.

An interesting incident connected with the recent illness of Senator Quay is reported from Oklahoma, the story only reaching here today. The senator, as a rule, has been a friend of the first citizens of America, the Indians, and is held in high regard by the Kickapoos who live in Oklahoma. Just prior to Christmas the Kickapoos heard for the first time of the illness of the senator. A council of sorrow was at once called and was attended by all the braves of the tribe. All the pet dogs were killed and a dog feast indulged in to propitiate the god of evil. The medicine man was instructed to perform the regular incantations and all joined in the hope that the Great Father would spare the life of Big Chief Quay, the friend of the Kickapoos.

Quay in White House Favor.

President Roosevelt today gave another exhibition of his partiality for Senators Quay and Penrose and the Republican organization in Pennsylvania by reappointing ex-State Senator C. Wesley Thomas as collector of customs for Philadelphia at $8,000 a year. To date the president has made every appointment in the state that has been recommended by Senators Quay and Penrose.

The president also appointed David H. Jarvis of Philadelphia to be collector of customs for Alaska. Mr. Jarvis is now a first lieutenant in the revenue cutter service and has been stationed in Alaskan waters for several years. He is a loyal organization Republican.

The president's partiality for the Pennsylvania senators is so marked as to lead to political gossip on the subject, and the Times today has the following:

First Roosevelt Organization.

"The organization of a Roosevelt propaganda, the object of which is to take a practically unanimous delegation from each state to the next Republican national convention, is one of the strong political probabilities. The first of the state organizations in the interest of the nomination of Mr. Roosevelt is credited to Senator Quay of Pennsylvania."

One of the senator's close friends today said: "That Mr. Quay should declare for Roosevelt need surprise no one. He was a Roosevelt adherent for second place on the ticket at the Philadelphia convention in 1900. It is because of this fact that Senator Quay is largely responsible for the fact that Mr. Roosevelt is president today. It is to be expected that Mr. Quay will be for him in 1904, and it is perfectly safe to predict that he will carry the entire Pennsylvania delegation with him for Theodore Roosevelt for first place on the Republican ticket in 1904."

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

REBELS STRONG AT SEA.

Venezuela Fleet Dares Not Meet the Liberiador—Colombian Insurgent Squadron Outclassed.

CARACAS, VENEZUELA, Jan. 16.—Gen. Matos, the revolutionary leader, is master at sea, for President Castro's fleet does not dare attack the Libertador. The government troops, however, watch the coasts so well that the landing of arms and ammunition is nearly impossible. The only important successful landing took place January 9 near Tucpan, where much ammunition and Gen. Riera were safely debarked.

COLON, COLOMBIA, Jan. 16.—Gen. Alban, commander of this district, has expropriated the South American Steamship Company's steamer Lantaro, on which three guns will be mounted. The steamer Shucuito, recently purchased from the Pacific Steam Navigation Company by the Colombian government, will mount one gun. The Colombian government fleet, therefore, is now larger and faster than the enemy's fleet.

ANGRY INDIANS BESIEGE A BANK WITH THREATS

Not in the Wild, Woolly West, but in Michigan, Near Detroit.

LARGE SUM IS DUE THEM

Probate Court, Fearing Trouble After the Redskins Fill With Booze, Orders the Money Paid to Their Guardians—Danger of Conflict.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

DOWAGIAC, MICH., Jan. 16.—Three hundred Pottawattamie Indians are on a rampage tonight and are besieging Lee Brothers' bank, which they threaten to break open if they are not paid the money they expected to receive today for signing over their claims to lake front land in Chicago. Many of the Indians are armed.

The town marshal has sworn in a number of deputies. All other citizens are keeping indoors, fearing to leave their houses.

The Indians came to town today to get $38,000, which was to be paid them by an agent of the Chicago syndicate to which they have signed over their power of attorney to act in the lake front land case. The Indians were to have received $100 each. Just as the agent was about to issue the money an order was received from the probate judge of the county instructing him to make payment only to the guardians of the Indians. The judge feared the Indians would spend the money in saloons, and, after becoming intoxicated, cause trouble.

Everyone is hoping that the Indians will grow quieter as the night wears on. If any attempt should be made to wreck the bank a serious conflict is sure to follow.

WILL BUILD A HOME FOR NEEDY CHILDREN

Women's Home Missionary Society of M. E. Church Intends to Look After Homeless Waifs.

At the semi-annual meeting of the Pittsburgh conference of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, held yesterday in the North Avenue church, Allegheny, a project was launched for a home for friendless children. It will be known as the "Elizabeth Bradley Memorial," after Mrs. Elizabeth Bradley, a philanthropist and mother in Methodism.

Already several thousand dollars have been offered by those who are deeply interested in the matter and more will be forthcoming from various sources.

Several sites are now under consideration for the location of the proposed home, but it is only known that it will be located in one of the suburbs of the city.

The matter was brought before the meeting yesterday by Miss E. A. Fowler, the corresponding secretary of the conference, who explained what was hoped to be accomplished. She said that it would not be in any sense of the word an orphan asylum, as that implied a large institution, but that it would be a home pure and simple.

The society hopes to secure an available site where a small home can be established and other small homes added as necessity demands. It will, in fact, be a colony of homes where children can be cared for.

It will be managed under the supervision of the Pittsburgh conference with a deaconess at the head of affairs.

The Rev. George H. Hite, pastor of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church, made an address on "The Price of Progress and Our Obligations to the Future." The next meeting will be held in McKeesport in June.

MARRIED AS RESULT OF JEST.

Bride and Groom Met for the First Time at the Altar.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Meeting and marrying a woman whom he had never seen before was an undertaking which Dr. Andrew Stewart Hackney of Kansas City, Mo., accomplished on his arrival in Chicago today. Miss Josephine Mulock, who came from Middletown, N. Y., to meet her fiance, and the physician were married tonight at St. Paul's church.

The marriage was the outcome of a jest made by Miss Mulock when a mutual friend told her that Dr. Hackney would make her a good husband. Miss Mulock said she would marry him. A correspondence was started and soon a proposal came from Dr. Hackney, which was accepted. Dr. Hackney is 56 years old and his wife is 31. She is said to be wealthy.

LONDON SPECULATORS SEE PEACE COMING

Belief Spreading That Peace Proposals Have Been Made.

STOCKS WERE AFFECTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A strong belief prevailed in financial circles here late today that negotiations for peace had been reopened between the leading Boers and the British government.

South African stocks rose in sympathy with the reports. The exact nature of what was going on was not known, but it was learned that leading Boers had indirectly approached the government, protesting against the appropriation of farms in the Transvaal and Orange river colony by British settlers, and that strong influence had been brought to bear on the Boer leaders to save at least a vestige of property for their followers.

Whether what is passing today between the Boers and the British government can be termed peace negotiations or what will be their result can only remain speculation for the present. The stock exchange evidently takes a hopeful view of the outcome.

He Will Supply South Africa With Fresh Meat to Rival's Discomfiture.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Jan. 16.—It was learned today that Cecil Rhodes has secured contracts amounting to several million pounds sterling for supplying South Africa, especially the British troops in that part of the world, with fresh meat.

The meat will be taken to South Africa in refrigerator vessels, from the British colonies and elsewhere. Mr. Rhodes' friends admit that one of his motives for so doing emanates from long standing differences which have existed between himself and the head of one of the South African cold storage concerns, which at present practically controls the fresh meat trade of South Africa.

CHAFFEE WILL STAMP OUT SAMAR REVOLT

JUNTA AGAIN AT WORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

MANILA, Jan. 16.—Gen. Chaffee will leave Manila for the Island of Samar next Saturday. He will thoroughly investigate the situation there, as it is desired to stamp out the Samar insurrection during the dry season.

A captured communication from the Filipino insurgent junta at Hongkong addressed to Gen. Lukban (the insurgent leader on Samar Island) authorizes Lukban to surrender if he wishes to do so, but does not advocate this action. If Lukban surrenders, the letter goes on to say, he need not deliver a single Filipino soldier or officer to the Americans, nor must he. Lukban, or any other officer be forced to accept civil appointment. They may migrate if alolwed to do so, but no Filipino must be obliged to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. Under these terms the Hongkong junta has no objection to Lukban's surrendering.

PROSPECTIVE GROOM FAILS TO APPEAR AT WEDDING

A DISAPPOINTED PARTY

Bride Was Dressed for the Ceremony and Minister and Guests Were Present.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ZANESVILLE, O., Jan. 16.—A wedding that was to have been the social event of the season in Highland township had to be declared off last evening because the groom failed to appear. Two weeks ago 100 invitations were sent out for the wedding at 7 o'clock last evening of Miss Ophelia Davis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, to Mr. Alexander Mitchell of Cambridge. The preparations for the wedding were complete, the prospective groom having actively participated in them, being consulted on the minutest details.

The bride was dressed for the ceremony, the officiating minister and the guests were present, the wedding supper was prepared, but when the hour for the ceremony had arrived the groom was strangely absent. A telephone message from Cambridge conveyed information that he was there and apparently had no notion of getting married, although he evaded all questions concerning the matter, so the guests and the minister were dismissed and the wedding feast remains uneaten.

Miss Davis is a highly respected young woman and her father is one of the most substantial farmers in the county. The matter of bringing suit for breach of promise is under consideration.

Chief Horner told her that there was no special law governing her case and advised her to go home and help herself when she was hungry.

THE STATE'S REVENUE.

Nearly $18,000,000 Collected, but Only $15,000,000 Really Available.

HARRISBURG, PA., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—State Treasurer Barnett has issued a statement which shows that the treasury receipts for the fiscal year ended November 30, 1901, aggregate $17,727,432 46. Of this amount three-fourths of the state personal tax is returned to the counties from which it is collected. The personal fees, fertilizer and oleomargarine licenses, oleomargarine, pure food, cheese, renovated butter, milk, vinegar, game and fish fines are all returned to the departments for maintenance.

In reality the state has for its own use about $15,000,000 of the amount received into the treasury. The greatest amount received is from the tax on capital stock, which aggregates $5,514,788 94; the smallest amount is $2 02, conscience money. The Sabbath-breaking fines for the year amount to $92 88.

THE COKE OUTPUT HAS BEEN INCREASED

Large Shipments Indicate Better Conditions in the Car Famine.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Jan. 16.—The Courier will say tomorrow: Coke production in the Connellsville region last week was slightly below what it was the previous week, but the output was much better. Consumers are encouraged by the largely increased shipments, which indicate an easing up in the car famine. The region's total shipments were over 1,200 cars better than they were the week of January 4.

The detailed report of the operation and output of the Connellsville region for the week ending on Saturday, January 11, shows a total of 21,578 ovens, of which 20,253 were active and 1,325 were idle. Three more ovens were reported at Hackett, one of the new works in the southern end of the region. The Revere works of W. J. Rainey are reported with 250 ovens instead of 286, and the Mt. Pleasant Coke Company reports 108 active ovens, a decrease of 12, compared with the report of last week. These were the only changes in the active and idle lists. The estimated production last week was slightly lower than that of the previous week—206,545 tons, compared with 208,260 tons the week of January 4.

Shipments for the week aggregated 11,181 cars, distributed as follows: To Pittsburgh and river tipples, 3,194 cars; to points west of Pittsburgh, 5,769 cars; to points east of Connellsville, 2,218 cars. This was an increase of 1,241 cars, compared with the shipments of the previous week.

FIGHTING FOR TREASURE.

Heirs of Deceased Widow Contesting for Gold Found in a Trunk.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—An interesting legal fight for the possession of a trunk and hidden treasure of gold coins valued at $1,520 was begun today in common pleas court. The plaintiff is Philip R. Wells, executor of the estate of Barbara Dreager, a widow, who died in April, 1900, at her home near Harrisburg. The defendant is her niece, Mary Scott, who, it is charged, took the gold coins without proper authority from a trunk in her aunt's house.

The defendant contends the gold was a gift. A few days before the death of Mrs. Dreager she told her niece to take the money and divide it between herself and her three sisters.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH THEFT.

Mercer Man Has His Sister-in-Law Arrested for Larceny.

MERCER, PA., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—George Hosack has had his sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Gregory, bound over to court for the larceny of $120. Hosack claims that while visiting with the family of his half-brother, Edward Gregory, on Sunday, he was relieved of a pocketbook containing $120, and valuable papers.

Three sisters of Hosack claim to have seen Mrs. Gregory bury the money in the snow while the house was being searched by a constable. The money was recovered, but no trace of the pocketbook or papers could be found.

All taxes must be paid on or before tomorrow noon. That is the last day on which a tax receipt can be issued that will qualify a citizen to vote at the February city election. ## VOTERS ANGRY AT LAST DEVICE OF THE MACHINE

Canvassers at Work in the Twentieth Ward Arouse Disgust.

FLINN OR ANTI-FLINN

In Checking Up Their Lists the Men Do Not Allow Anyone to Be Set Down as a Republican—Registration Shows 200,294 Names.

An attempt is being made to wipe the Republican party off the political map in the Twentieth ward. The machine is making it a case of Flinn or Citizens party.

The machine his canvassers all over the Twentieth ward. They are supposed to learn how every citizen will vote. In dozens of cases they have made supporters for the anti-machine ticket. In both instances the convert has been a man who has always voted the Republican ticket and previous to the canvasser's call had intended to support Lewis and the machine councilmanic slate.

One of the strongest Republicans in the ward yesterday told of his experience with the canvasser and said it had been the experience of dozens of his friends.

"A member of the payroll came to my home the other day," said he, "and said that he had been sent out by the Republican organization to ascertain how I would vote.

Initials Show Position.

"'Will I mark a D before your name?' said he.

"'Why mark a D?' I inquired.

"'That means that you are doubtful,' was his reply.

"'I am never doubtful.'

"'Then will I place a C before your name? That means that you will vote for the Citizens party ticket,' was his next question and explanation.

"'No, I am a Republican.' Then the canvasser smiled and started to thank me. As he did so, he wrote a big F in front of my name. 'Why do you mark me F?'

"'Oh, that's our orders. It means that you are for Flinn.'

"I said a good many things in a very short time. I am a Republican, but if one has to be marked up as being for Flinn just because he is a member of the Republican party, I am through. I suppose that canvasser thinks that I will vot the machine ticket. Many of my friends in the ward have had the same experience and the machine has lost a vote each time."

Not Taking Any Chances.

The management of the Citizens and Democratic parties intend to be on the safe side so far as getting John B. Larkin and the candidates for councils on the ballot. There is a petition now pending in the courts, in which the Citizens party asks for a circle for its ticket. It is difficult to see how their request can be refused, but in case of an adverse decision the names will go on by nomination papers. There has been no trouble to secure all of the necessary signers and but very few men have declined to sign. The papers will be ready for filing long before the time expires.

The county commissioners have completed the totals for the December registration in the county. The figures, compared with those of 1901, follow:

| | 1901. | 1902. |
|---|---|---|
| Pittsburgh | 81,069 | 85,415 |
| Allegheny | 33,143 | 33,521 |
| McKeesport | 8,018 | 8,293 |
| Boroughs | 42,427 | 45,297 |
| Townships | 28,259 | 27,768 |
| Total | 192,916 | 200,294 |

Many New Voters.

The registration for 1901 was made 60 days previous to the fall election and the list for 1902 was completed December 18, 1901, or 60 days before the February election.

It will be noticed that there are 4,346 more voters on the registry now than were there previous to the November election. The increase in the county is 7,378. The falling off in the townships is explained by the fact that a number of boroughs have recently been organized.

The mandamus proceedings against S. P. Conner, delinquent tax collector, were yesterday found to be unnecessary. Andrew Fulton, George W. Guthrie, James A. Clark, W. J. Brennen and Joseph G. McClure held a conference with Mr. Conner and County Treasurer Thomas McClure.

The officials promised that receipts would be issued for all orders, accompanied by a cash deposit, which were given to the collector before noon tomorrow. These receipts will bear the date that the order was deposited. In cases where it is necessary to pay the tax in the treasurer's office the same agreement will hold good.

Deposits of cash were left with both the treasurer and collector yesterday and it is thought that all the receipts required will be secured.

Decision Expected Soon.

It may be determined today whether a Democrat is to be put on the Citizens councilmanic ticket in the Twentieth ward. The Democrats want George H. Stengle. It was reported yesterday that Thomas Brown had withdrawn. This report is untrue. In case the two parties cannot agree it is probable that the Democrats will name Stengle, another Democrat and Charles Crawford. They figure that in a three-cornered contest they could get one man. It is altogether likely, however, that there will be an amicable settlement.

Attorney W. J. Brennen yesterday in common pleas court No. 2 filed four petitions asking that 175 names be added to the registry lists of the Sixth, Seventh, Eleventh and Twelfth wards. It is alleged that the registers in these wards have failed to include these names on their lists and refuse to do so. A hearing in the matter will be held tomorrow.

A petition was filed yesterday by Police Lieut. John J. Gibbons, a candidate for alderman in the Fourth ward, McKeesport, asking that 30 names be added to the registry list in that ward. It was in this ward Judge J. D. Shafer struck out 121 names from the list, and Gibbons says that 30 of these names should be put back. A rule returnable today was granted.

Citizens Indorse Candidates.

The members of the Citizens party of the Twenty-fifth ward met last night in the Morse school and indorsed David Lewis, Democratic candidate for common council. John Coates was named for school director to succeed Lewis, the incumbent. Christ Glasser was suggested for assessor and the balance of the ticket was left to a committee of five. The candidacy of Larkin for controller was indorsed.

The Democrats of McKees Rocks held their suggestion meeting last evening. Matthew Cavanaugh, who was suggested by the citizens of the borough living on the east side of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, at a meeting on Wednesday evening, for council, was indorsed. The Citizens party was given right to name the other two candidates for council.

Allegheny Democrats Nominate.

At a meeting of the Democrats of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, last night, Martin Mihm was nominated for school director and Frank Polk for constable. J. H. Stevenson was indorsed for city controller.

At a meeting of the Hebrew voters of the Eighth ward last night in the Franklin school the candidacy of J. M. West for council, was indorsed. West is an anti-machine nominee.

Admiral Evans' Own Book Explains Why He Is in Imperial Favor.

HIS ADVENTURE AT KIEL

He and Ambassador Holleben Mapping Out a Program for the Coming Royal Visit—Splendid Present Coming for Miss Roosevelt.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1902, by New York Herald Co.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Prince Henry of Prussia will be given a reception which will eclipse that accorded the American squadron at the celebration held on the occasion of the opening of the Kiel canal.

Rear Admiral Robley D. Evans, selected on the request of Prince Henry, and in compliance with the wish of Emperor William, as the prince's personal escort, was in conference with the president and Herr von Holleben, the German ambassador, regarding the details of the reception and entertainment of the distinguished visitor. Herr von Holleben subsequently called at the state department and communicated to Secretary Hay the gratification of his government that Rear Admiral Evans had been named to attend the prince while he is in this country.

Invitations Pouring In

The German ambassador is highly pleased with the interest which is being taken by the country in Prince Henry's impending visit. He is receiving letters and dispatches from various municipalities asking that the prince honor them with his presence.

The ambassador is unable to accept any invitations for his royal highness. According to official information cabled to the embassy the prince will remain in this country only two weeks. Rear Admiral Evans and the ambassador discussed today the points the prince could visit, and it is likely the program will be something like this:

Prince Henry will arrive in New York on February 22. He will be received by a special squadron, consisting of the battleship Illinois, flying the flag of Rear Admiral Evans; protected cruisers Olympia, Cincinnati and San Francisco and training ship Hartford.

First Visit of Ceremony.

Accompanied by his staff, Capt. G. E. Converse, commanding the Illinois; Lieut. T. L. Chapin, his flag lieutenant, and Lieut. Thomas Washington, his flag secretary, Rear Admiral Evans will pay an official call to the prince. The Hohenzollern will then be escorted up the bay to the city of New York.

Prince Henry will bring from Germany a handsome present for Miss Alice Roosevelt from the emperor in recognition and as a souvenir of her part in the launching of the new royal yacht. Prince Henry also has been directed to arrange for aquatic sports between German and American tars in the foreign ports where they meet.

The plating of the imperial yacht Meteor is being hurried with all the speed consistent with the best workmanship. If nothing happens the yacht will be ready to be placed in the water on February 20, almost a week before the launching date now talked of, which is February 26.

When Evans Met the Prince.

In "A Sailor's Log," written by Admiral Evans, a chapter is devoted to the Kiel celebration, the author being there in command of the armored cruiser New York, of a reception, given on board one of the German battleships, Rear Admiral Evans wrote:

I had an interesting experience. When I went over the side I found a large company, most of them dancing. As I was not a dancing man, I stood on one side to be out of the way, and entered into conversation with a young, clean-looking German captain, who spoke English perfectly. It was soon evident to me that he was brilliant in his profession, and we engaged in a rather sharp professional talk. I did not agree with the captain, whose name I had not caught, and I did not hesitate to speak my mind—nor did he.

After a time he said he would be glad to present me to his wife, and I found her a very charming and attractive woman. Of course I had not caught her name, either; but after talking with her for half an hour I noticed that a good many people seemed to be waiting to speak to her, so I took myself to the smoking compartment to enjoy a cigar. When I entered, Admiral Knorr greeted me and said: "Evans, the prince says you are a good fellow and he wants the emperor to know you."

I replied: "My dear admiral, I have not seen the prince and don't know him."

Talked With Royalty Unawares.

"Well," he said, "you ought to know him; you have been talking shop to him for half an hour and I don't know what you have been saying to the princess during your conversation with her."

I had been talking with two of the most delightful people I ever met, Prince Henry and Princess Irene.

Hohenzollern's Crew Aboard.

KIEL, Jan. 16.—The Hohenzollern's crew, numbering 311 men, are now all on board that vessel. Tomorrow will be spent in stowing extra coal. The departure of the yacht is fixed for Sunday at the latest, but she will put to sea on Saturday if the ice threatens to close the canal.

The bandmaster of the Second naval division music corps, which is to furnish a band to go to the United States on the Hohenzollern, came here from Wilhelmshaven yesterday to receive special instructions from Prince Henry. The prince directed him to practice daily during the voyage, playing favorite American airs. The band has received permission to go ashore in the United States in parade uniform and give several private concerts.

The present voyage will be the longest ever taken by the Hohenzollern.

Silver for the Banquet.

Emperor William's silver treasures, from which there have been selected nearly 1,000 of the choicest pieces for use at Prince Henry's banquet on board the Hohenzollern at New York, compose one of the richest collections of silver possessed by any sovereign of Europe and is valued at upwards of 5,000,000 marks. It embraces Emperor William's wedding gift presented by 35 Prussian cities, a silver table service for 50 persons valued at 420,000 marks and many rare pieces of silver dating from the time of Frederick the Great and Frederick William I.

FALLING BRIDGE WILL BE REBUILT

SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCILS IS CALLED FOR THIS AFTERNOON.

Experts Report South Tenth Street Bridge Unsafe for Pedestrians, and Ordinances Will Be Introduced for New Structures.

Recorder J. O. Brown has called a special meeting of both branches of council for this afternoon to pass an ordinance for the immediate reconstruction of the South Tenth street bridge. As published in The Gazette a few days ago, the South Tenth street bridge has been abandoned and declared unsafe by city engineers.

On Wednesday outside engineering experts were employed by Recorder Brown to inspect the bridge. The experts appointed for this work were Emil Swenson, E. K. Morse and William F. Miller. Miller was formerly resident filtration engineer and Swenson the engineer who devised the plans for the Pittsburgh Elevated Railway Company.

After a thorough examination the experts reported to the city officials that the bridge was unsafe for either vehicle or foot traffic, a menace to navigation on the river and liable to collapse at any time.

Ordinance Will Be Passed.

After receiving the statement of the experts, Recorder Brown instructed the city clerk to call a special session of councils for this afternoon, when an ordinance will be passed authorizing the director of public works to make a contract to have the South Tenth street bridge torn down without delay and money appropriated from the bond issue to build a new bridge.

Director J. Guy McCandless of the department of public works, stated yesterday that the bridge would be torn down immediately and the old iron and lumber in the structure will be sold. Superintendent Bruner of the bureau of construction said that it would take about a month to remove the bridge.

Will Inconvenience Many.

The abandonment of the South Tenth street bridge will be a source of great inconvenience to the residents of the South Side. It has been a short cut to and from the city for hundreds of workingmen who live on the South Side.

Councilman J. F. Semmelrock of the Twenty-sixth ward is confident that a structure 60 feet wide will be built where the old bridge stands. A 60-foot bridge will cost not less than $450,000. There is about $520,000 in the bond fund for improvement and repair of the various city bridges. The whole amount will be expended on the Lincoln avenue and the South Tenth street bridges.

Lincoln Avenue Will Get Bridge.

For the Lincoln avenue bridge $160,000 will be appropriated and the balance for the Tenth street bridge. Not less than $100,000 additional will be required for the Tenth street bridge, and this will be provided out of the regular appropriations for 1902.

The ordinance appropriating the amount necessary for the Lincoln avenue bridge may also be passed this afternoon. The bills for the two bridges are in the hands of the finance committee of councils. A meeting of the finance committee will be held before councils go into session and the ordinances sent to councils with affirmative recommendations.

BOYS NOT RELEASED.

Did Not Like Marine Service, But Must Probably Remain.

The relatives and friends of Charles Hyslop and John Owens, two Braddock boys, who are in the United States marines, at present stationed at League Island, have given up all hope of having the boys released from the service.

The young men enlisted six months ago and shortly afterward wrote to their families and friends that the service was not what they had anticipated and wished to be released.

An effort was made to have the boys discharged and Congressman John Dalzell was appealed to. A petition with the names of several hundred Braddock citizens attached was sent to Washington and everything possible done to secure their release, but all seems in vain, as so far, there are no signs of the request for their release being granted. The families of both boys are prominent in Braddock.

CENSURED AUTHORITIES.

Imprisonment of Santiago y Iglisias Condemned by Bricklayers.

The Bricklayers and Masons' convention yesterday transacted little else than routine business. A resolution was adopted, censuring the action of the Porto Rican authorities in imprisoning Santiago y Iglisias for labor agitation.

Nicola Gibolotti, an Italian professor, who says he was ejected from Italy by the government because he favored the cause of the workingman, spoke in the morning, and asked the union to help to organize the workingmen of Italy. Officers will be elected today.

PITTSBURGH IS REPRESENTED IN THE EXPOSITION

At Least One Local Company Will Exhibit in London Crystal Palace.

APPLICANTS ARE PLENTY

Aim of the Projectors of the Show Is to Have as Many American Lines of Business as Possible Included Advisory Committee Personnel.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Alfred H. Post of Alfred H. Post & Co., foreign freight contractors of this city, who is United States commissioner for the exclusively American exposition to be held in the London crystal palace from May to October this year, said today:

"The complete success of the exposition, as regards an abundance of exhibits, is fully assured, applications having already been received for over 75 per cent of the available space and promises made for considerably more than the rest. What is desired, however, is a truly representative exposition, embracing all sorts of American manufactured goods; and to accomplish this end we can find plenty of room for manufacturers of machinery and other products not covered in the applications now on hand.

"Direct applications have already been received from the following Pittsburgh and other Pennsylvania firms: H. J. Heinz Company of Pittsburgh, S. S. Wenzell Machine Company of Philadelphia and William Simpson & Co. of Philadelphia. These concerns will make important exhibits.

Charles Churchill & Co., Ltd., Buck & Hickman, John L. Sardy and other prominent handlers of American machine tools in the United Kingdom also have applied for space. The Bennett-Pond Company, the American Soda Fountain Company, the Mutual Life Assurance Company, the Fidelity and Deposit Company, the Weaver-Seaver Engineering Company, the National Cash Register Company and other prominent concerns also will be among the extensive exhibitors.

P.; Ernest H. Forwood and Alderman Joseph Lawrence, president of the Edison ore milling syndicate."

TRANSACTIONS SAID TO BE FRAUDULENT

Agents of American Art Publishing Co. Said to Have Secured $40,000 from Citizens of County.

City Detectives Richard Kelly, Charles McGovern and William Elmore yesterday arrested H. M. Goff of Chicago and A. J. McGinniss, of No. 819 North avenue, Allegheny, charging them with conspiracy to defraud, and locked them up in the Central police station. The men represented the American Art Publishing Company of Chicago, and it is alleged by the detectives that they have been carrying on fraudulent transactions in this city since September. It is averred they have defrauded the citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny county of almost $40,000. This was done through a medium of a bogus sale of pictures, with an inducement of china sets as a premium. They collected the money for the entire set of pictures, of an inferior quality, and never delivered the premiums.

According to Detectives Kelly and McGovern the scheme was an attractive one. These agents had their office at room No. 414, Ferguson building. Detective Kelly said last night that they had 42 complaints to make against them.

Their local offices were fitted up handsomely and there are over 6,000 accounts on the books of this county.

Last night they were committed to jail for a hearing on Tuesday. Detective Kelly said that their stenographer confessed that the men were about to leave this city.

Superintendent of Detectives Philip Demmel said last night that the detectives have been aware of the doubtful transactions of these men for some time. They were unable to take any action in the case until some complaints had been made.

William Bennett, chief of police at Braddock, arrested seven agents of the American Art Publishing Company on charges of swindling the citizens of that place. Their books show they have done a good business there.

Beauty's Blood Deep

How untrue the old adage "Beauty's Skin Deep." How many women of beautiful features marred by impure blood try in vain to get a pure complexion by doctoring the skin. The quickest, surest, only way to beauty is to cleanse the blood.

"I have been taking Cascarets for pimples and have been greatly benefited." —Miss Gertrude Grant, Cambridge, Mass.

"I am very well pleased with Cascarets. They are fine for the complexion." —Miss Catherine C. Coffman, S. English, Ia.

"Cascarets will clear the complexion of boils, pimples and blackheads caused by impure blood." —A. E. Griffin, M. D., Stubblefield, Texas.

"Cascarets have done a great deal of good for me and for all our family." —Miss Florence Cook, Webster City, Ia.

"I must add my testimonial to your valuable medicine Cascarets for stomach trouble." —Irene Ackerman (famous singer), 10 West Fifteenth Street, New York.

"I was suffering with sick headaches a great deal, but after taking a box of Cascarets am entirely cured." —Miss Clara Stimmel, 222 So. Sandusky Street, Delaware, Ohio.

"Cascarets did me a world of good. My liver was in bad condition for some time and one box cured me." —Miss Mabel Allen, Clare, Michigan.

How many, many young women are anaemic, pale, sickly-looking, perhaps with pimples on face and neck, owing to poor, unhealthy blood. Perhaps womanhood is approaching, that serious time of life when irregularities are liable to break down a consitution. The first rule for purifying and enriching the blood is to keep the bowels free and natural, gently but positively, without nervous shock, and Cascarets Candy Cathartic is the only medicine to do it.

MURDER TALE TOLD IN DETAIL BY WISZOLEK

Lawrenceville Pole Killed Wife Upon the Renewal of a Family Quarrel.

ROBBERY PLAYED NO PART

Further Investigation by the Police Shows That the Tragedy of Last Wednesday Morning Was Not Committed for Such Purpose.

Joseph Wiszolek, who murdered his wife and cruelly wounded his children at No. 200 Spring Garden alley Wednesday morning, made a full confession of his crime yesterday. He made two statements, one to a fellow-patient in the hospital and later in the day to Police Captain Fred Will.

He said that his wife struck him first and he then took the weapon from her and killed her. The murder resulted from a family quarrel, as was said in The Gazette of yesterday.

There was no robbery connected with the murder, and no one had any knowledge that it had been committed until three hours afterward. Francis, the boy, who is expected to die at any moment, corroborated his father's statement. He told Capt. Will briefly the details of the murder.

Wiszolek was removed from the operating room to a general ward Wednesday evening. He was rational most of the time. The cot next to his was occupied by a colored man. The one beyond that was occupied by Valintine Pulaska, a Pole, who was injured in the explosion at the Black Diamond steel works some weeks ago.

Talked to Fellow Patient.

He was a stranger to Wiszolek and had not seen him until he was brought in the ward during the night. No word passed between them during the night.

During the early hours of the morning Wiszolek became conscious and he conversed with Paluska. The colored man could not understand Polish, but told the ward attendants that the men had a conversation.

When Capt. Will went into the ward Paluska called him to his cot. He told the police official that he could give him some information. In broken English he said:

"I did not know the sick man, never saw him until yesterday, but gathered from his remarks he was a countryman. Last night I could not sleep very long at a time and was awake at frequent intervals. One of these times the sick man was conscious and as I was wide awake I asked him what had been the matter and how he got hurt. He told me that he himself had struck his wife, Rosa, and killed her with a hammer, and that he had also struck his little ones. He told me he had done it all."

Confessed to Capt. Will.

Wiszolek later told Capt. Will he killed his wife.

Having obtained this information Capt. Will secured an interpreter and went to the cot of Francis Wiszolek. After some effort the lad was induced to talk. He said that his mother got up early, as usual, to prepare the breakfast. She was fully dressed, but his father was not. They had had a quarrel during the night. When Wiszolek got out of bed the quarrel was resumed.

Mrs. Lock picked up the hammer and struck him with it several times. Francis said that his father wrested the cutter from his mother and beat her on the head with it. She fell on the floor and never moved again.

He said that he and his sisters started to scream. He told Capt. Will that he made the most noise. The lad said that his father made for him and struck him over the head, knocking him down.

Silenced Her Screams.

His older sister Angelica still continued to scream and he struck her, knocking her eye out. She fell back on the bed unconscious.

According to Francis his father then turned to his infant sister Anna and hit her on the head. Francis then told the officer there was no more noise.

The lad told Capt. Will that he lay on the floor and was partly conscious. He said that his father was bleeding badly and remained in the room for some time. He laid on the bed and watched the little girls in their pain, but he did not touch them. Later he went down stairs. It was at this time that he was seen by Mrs. Thomas Suhuska, a boarder in the house. Francis said that his father came up stairs later and laid on the bed again.

Capt. Wills and Officer James Conley made another search for money in the house yesterday. They could not find anything. Capt. Will said the report that Wiszolek had taken $1,000 was a newspaper myth.

He said that the murder culminated out of a quarrel, as told by Wiszolek and his son Francis. Detective Bernard McStay made a thorough search in the Polish settlement at Braddock for Kozinski, the boarder that Wiszolek declared had committed the crime. He was unsuccessful in his search. The Braddock police are looking for him, and when he is found he will be detained as a witness. He was in the room when Wiszolek quarreled with his wife during the night.

There was very little change in the condition of the victims of the affair yesterday. The physicians at the hospital say there is no hope of their recovery.

COLDER AND SNOW.

Pittsburgh Will Take on Wintry Appearance Today.

Pittsburgh will probably experience weather today from 5 to 8 degrees colder than yesterday. Flurries of snow will probably give it the appearance of winter, but the change will not be noticed to any great extent.

Throughout the west last night it was clear and a few degrees colder than during the day previous. Marquette was the coldest, with 14 degrees above zero. Light snow was reported at Buffalo and Parkersburg.

Contagious Diseases—Zora Davis, 23 years old of No. 414 Farmer street, and Vivus Spaulding of No. 1304 Franklin street, were sent to the Municipal hospital yesterday suffering from smallpox. Eight new cases of typhoid fever, seven of scarlet fever and two of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health during the day.

To Build New Synagogue—The Jewish congregation of Adjudat Archin of Braddock last night elected a committee of 25 to begin operations on the new synagogue to be built on Talbot avenue, near Eleventh street. The building will cost $15,000. A considerable sum has been collected, and there are promises of nearly all that will be needed.

Think He Was Poisoned—The resident physicians at the Allegheny General hospital who attended James Kirk, who died there shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday morning, are of the opinion that his death was due to poisoning. It was stated at the morgue last night that an autopsy had been held in the case, but the result of it will not be made public until the inquest.

Hearing Was Postponed—The hearing of Theodore Babcock, the actor charged with assault and battery by Edna Kent, was continued until 10 o'clock today. It was intimated, when the suit was called before Magistrate J. V. McMasters that threats had been made that the girl would drop the suit. Superintendent of Detectives Demmel, who was present, told her to come to him if she was threatened.

A Business Meeting—The sales force of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, jobbing department, will hold a meeting at the Hotel Duquesne Saturday afternoon to consider ways and means of furthering the paint and glass industry to the mutual advantage of the jobbing department, as well as themselves. Horse Delays Traffic—Much excitement and a quarter of an hour's delay of travel were caused at 5 p. m. yesterday at the Sandusky street (Allegheny) crossing of the West Penn railroad by a horse attached to an express wagon getting one of its shoes caught in a frog of the railroad tracks. The horse fell and its shoe was so tightly held by the frog that it had to be pried out with a crowbar. The horse's leg was badly sprained at the hip and knee.

Volunteers for Fire Company—Swissvale council held a meeting last night, at which a quantity of routine business was transacted. Word of his death reached them yesterday, and his body will be brought home. He was a machinist.

Interest in Concert—The public is both excited and curious in view of the policy of the orchestra management not to publish the "request" program which is to be played at the concerts this evening and Saturday afternoon. As to the soloist, Mrs. Hissem de Moss, anticipation is alert in view of the fact that she is practically a protege of Theodore Thomas and this is her second season in public. Her important number is the mad scene from "Hamlet," which places her in direct comparison with Mme. Calve, who sang the scene at Carnegie music hall at her only concert appearance here. Mrs. de Moss will also sing songs by Brahms, Dvorak and Tosti.

Missionary Society Met—The first quarterly meeting of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the southern conference of the Pittsburgh synod was held yesterday afternoon and evening in St. Mark's Evangelical Lutheran church, at North avenue and Middle street, Allegheny. The executive committee will fix the time of meeting.

Kleman Held for Court—John P. Kleman, the East End saloonkeeper, was held in $500 bail for court by Alderman J. D. Walker on a charge of assault and battery preferred by James B. Hyndman, a real estate agent. Police Officer Pierson was held in $800 on the same charge, and Officer Davidson was held in $300. Hyndman alleged that the night before Christmas Kleman knocked him down and called Officer Davidson to arrest him. He also alleged that Officer Pierson abused him while he was in the patrol wagon. Hyndman was discharged at the hearing the following morning. Kleman has brought a counter-suit against Hyndman before Alderman E. C. Negley, alleging that on the night of the trouble Hyndman broke down the door of his saloon at the corner of Penn and Collins avenues. The hearing will be next Tuesday night.

The Case of Caleb Powers.

The Gazette has heretofore called attention to the case of Caleb Powers, convicted twice in Judge Cantrill's court in Kentucky of complicity in the murder of Goebel. After the first conviction he was able to appeal, and the court of appeals set aside the verdict. After the second conviction he had no money to carry his case up, and the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune called for help. Among the contributors in answer to the call was a Pittsburgh gentleman, and he has received an eloquent letter from Mr. Powers, that should open the purses of lovers of justice for his use and the use of others who suffer injustice with him. The letter is published in this issue of The Gazette. If the courts that should mete out justice in Kentucky are turned into engines of oppression the country should be aroused to see that justice be done—that the innocent be acquitted and the guilty sought out and punished. Men who have been convicted of one crime meet for the first time in prison, and Mr. Powers had but scant acquaintance with two of the alleged principals in the crime and none with three others at the time they were accused. The matter should be sifted to the bottom, and money is needed to do the work. Now is the time to contribute.

Mr. Conner's Unruffled Calm.

What is the county delinquent tax would-be payee intends to "vote wrong." So why hurry? Let the money come through a political organization, which bows to the strenuousness of life that the delinquent tax office turns back upon itself in a noble effort to show how altogether wrong it is. As for the collector, it is his mission to teach the surging masses that there is one place on earth where dreams of wealth have no pull, and where commissions on cash received are unconsidered trifles. The heathen may rage up to his sky parlor in quest of the piece of paper that will attest a right to vote, but the county charges nothing for the use of the elevator going or coming, and the stairways are there for those who want to work off their excitement by walking. We hear that Mr. Conner has arranged to receipt on all orders that reach him today or tomorrow if accompanied by money merely as a guarantee of good faith, and not because he needs it, but the populace will doubtless be unable today and tomorrow, as yesterday and the day before, to disturb the magnificent equipoise of the man behind the pen that signs the tax receipt. This Conner who guides the orderly course of the county delinquent tax office is no relation of the Sam of Life (apologies to Longfellow) that tells us "Life is real, life is earnest." It might be different, though, if "Flinn and them" would say something to him.

Uncle Sam's Canal.

An article by Gen. H. L. Abbott in the current issue of the Engineering Magazine is of timely interest in the present discussion of isthmian canal routes. Gen. Abbott is an advocate of the Panama canal. He points out that this enterprise is in a totally different condition from what it was at the formation of the new company in 1894. Since that time the work has been continuous and rich in results, with good progress in actual construction. The writer presents quite a formidable array of facts in favor of the Panama project. Among its advantages are a route only about one-fourth as long as its most formidable rival, requiring only about half the number of locks; an exemption from about 50 miles of difficult river navigation; harbors which have aided in making it the favorite transit route since the earliest Spanish occupation; a parallel railroad; the presence of quarters for laborers and tools for the immediate resumption of work on a grand scale; and, finally, half the cost of constructing the Nicaragua canal.

Gen. Abbott is enthusiastic in his claims of the advantages of the Panama route, and his representations are evidently made in that perfect faith that should insure a careful consideration before a decision is reached by the United States. Others are as enthusiastic for the Nicaragua route. Between the extremes of enthusiasm the truth will be developed.

A poll of the senate on the alternative canal routes, publication of which was made by The Gazette yesterday, shows that of the 87 senators the inquiries reached 72, 31 of whom favored the Nicaraguan route, while 41 thought the Panama proposition worthy of consideration, and one, Senator Teller, is opposed to building a canal at all.

The importance of the canvass lies in this, that 41 senators are keeping an open mind on the proposition; that they are prepared to give due weight to every argument brought forward on one side or the other; that they are prepared to eliminate the equation of personal

The Minnesota doctor truthfully says that there is no excuse for smallpox in civilized countries, for the spread of the disease can only be attributed to gross ignorance or a reckless disregard for the public health. Before the discovery of the virtue of vaccine virus smallpox was a scourge of the world, but since its adoption as a preventive the disease has been kept thoroughly under control except in cases where negligence caused an outbreak approaching the proportions of an epidemic. For many years the efficacy of vaccination has been demonstrated, proving that there is no excuse for smallpox where the people are above the grade of the untutored barbarian. In recognition of this fact the order that everybody connected with the work on the world's fair buildings at St. Louis must be vaccinated will be greatly applauded.

Our advices from Washington to the effect that Senator Quay declines to be coupled to the Elkin boom is no surprise. When Mr. Durham declared the senator to be for Elkin The Gazette pointed out that Senator Quay needed no spokesman and has always been able to make his position quite clear. It requires no careful study to prove that so far as the governorship is concerned he has made plain his belief that the wishes of the Republican voters should prevail. In this he is in complete harmony with public sentiment. Senator Quay has been learning since his return from Florida what the people think of the Stone administration, of which Mr. Elkin is a part, and his information is not such as to indicate that it would be wise to give his indorsement to a candidate so closely associated with the author of the postscript addressed to the people of Pittsburgh.

The company promoters of London have always to reckon with a so-called financial press. These journals are owned and edited by sharks who can mar if they cannot make the fortunes of almost any scheme and can be of great use to projects launched under the auspices of some rascal and the patronage of a few needy aristocrats whose titles carry weight with a public apparently incapable of being taught caution, no matter how often it has been scorched. The bankruptcy examination of Whitaker Wright relative to the affairs of a number of enterprises, some of them legitimate, have revealed depths of gullibility on one side and depravity on the other. London is a great financial center and many flames are there to burn the wings of the moths.

The anti-vice ordinance was beaten in Allegheny councils last night. Recorder Murphy has, however, had abundant advice that there is sufficient law on the statute books to authorize him to deal with crime. Members of Allegheny councils did not neglect the duty of mentioning it last night for the recorder's benefit and to justify themselves. The recorder now knows where he stands and should do something.

Westinghouse Warns of a New Tunnel Peril

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.

George Westinghouse's warning of the dangers that may attend the use of electricity as a motive power in the New York Central's tunnel has caused a great deal of discussion here. In a letter to a New York daily paper Mr. Westinghouse declares boldly that "The electrical energy required to operate a heavy train is sufficient to melt a considerable bar of iron, or to start a dangerous fire, if anything goes wrong, upon a car of ordinary combustible construction, much more readily than the car stove, the use of which has been abolished by law." Mr. Westinghouse's name carries weight in New York just as it does in Pittsburgh and elsewhere. For that reason his utterances on practically a new peril were under earnest discussion everywhere today. As an electrical inventor and manufacturer he should know what he is talking about, and it must be admitted that he is likely to feel very strongly on the subject when he utters a warning note that must be to his own disadvantage if it has any bearing on his interests at all. The more notice is taken of Mr. Westinghouse's assertion because it indorses what has been said repeatedly since the tunnel tragedy by other experts whose names are not so widely known as his. A week ago an electrician said to me that if electricity of sufficient force to move a heavy train were installed in a tunnel, at some time or other there would be a tragedy that would make that on the New York Central last week seem actually insignificant. There would always be danger of the grounding of the wires, with a consequent short circuit, and this would mean the burning up of a car so quickly that there would be no time for anyone to escape. This particular electrical expert remarked to me this afternoon, with pardonable self-satisfaction: "I have repeatedly declared to railroad men and others that this short-circuiting was a difficulty which must be overcome before electric traction could be used in tunnels, but no one seemed to think the peril was as great as I maintained. Now that George Westinghouse agrees with me, as he does, I suppose more attention will be paid to this vitally important matter."

Controversy Over the Burr Bit.

Ever since the horse show there has been an intermittent agitation over the use of the "burr bit." This, according to one of the leading veterinarians of this city, is a pad of leather having bristles on one side, which is made to slip over the bit outside the mouth. If the horse carries his head straight, as a well-broken horse should, the bit does not hurt him. If he pulls to one side or the other, he feels the bristles, which annoy him just enough to correct his bad habit. So says the veterinarian. But this does not satisfy the persons who are conducting a crusade against the burr bit, and there is no telling where it will all end. The origin of the controversy was the finding that a groom waiting with a carriage at the horse show had made a burr bit with steel spikes, causing torture to his horse. Attention was called to burr bits by this case, and it will take more than one expert opinion of a veterinarian to settle it, apparently.

Forty-Mile Ride for 5 Cents.

One of the cheap amusements possible to the thrifty Harlemite, and in which he occasionally indulges, is to take a round trip on the "L" for 5 cents. He does it thus: Buying a 5-cent ticket at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and Third avenue, he rides down Third avenue and the Bowery to the Battery. He walks along the platform, and, without paying another fare, gets on a Sixth avenue "L" train and rides up to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street on the West Side. If he has not had enough riding for his nickel he steps across the platform and takes a downtown train to the Battery. There he changes to a Third avenue train and goes up to One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street on the East Side. He has ridden nearly 40 miles for his 5 cents, and if he likes riding on elevated trains, as presumably he does, he has had a good 5 cents' worth of pleasure.

Playful, But Dangerous.

Central park has an elephant which, while not exactly a "bad elephant," requires watching. He is Tom, the playful creature who tried to kill three of his keepers about four years ago and nearly succeeded. He has just been removed accepts peanuts, cakes and candy from visitors, but his keepers always keep an eye on him, knowing that, mild as is his demeanor, he yet may have to leave the world by the prussic acid route, as his companion, Tip, did a year ago.

Strong's Portrait Bound Up in Tape.

What would Mayor W. L. Strong have said had he known that a fine portrait of himself would go begging for a place somewhere on the many thousand feet of wall space in city hall? In his day W. L. Strong was a popular as well as important figure in New York official life. He could have had a dozen portraits of himself hung in city hall then had he desired it. But he is dead now, and there is a difference. Mayor Low has in his possession a painting of the late mayor presented to the city by Gen. Collis, and actually does not know what to do with it. He is trying to get the municipal art commission together for a conference. In the meantime the picture is put away in a dusty corner, with its face to the wall, waiting to be released from the red tape that keeps it tied up.

Victor Herbert's Treat for New York.

The Pittsburgh orchestra will make its annual appearance in New York next Tuesday evening at Carnegie hall. George H. Wilson has been here making final arrangements, and the indications are that the concert this time will be the most notable yet given in the metropolis. In the program will be Victor Herbert's suite, "Woodland Fancies," which was given in Pittsburgh last month, and was declared to be a worthy successor of the popular conductor's "Hero and Leander." This last named work of Mr. Herbert's created a sensation in New York last year.

A Shopping Event.

A new drygoods firm in the shopping district is an important happening in New York. Beginning with this morning there is a new name to an old firm, and New York women have been asking themselves whether it means greater bargains for them, or only a change that interests the firm itself. Anyhow, there was a larger sweep of customers in the big doorways of this house today than has been the case for several weeks. Feminine curiosity was enough to cause that, independently of any less worthy sentiment.

Called Fitzsimmons a Liar.

Hello. There's a pretty go; a man called "Fitz" a liar today. To be sure, he did it by the comparatively safe agency of a telephone, but he did it. Perhaps I should say, "He done it, all the same." It was Billy Madden, manager of Gus Ruhlin, who dared to tell Robert Fitzsimmons, "Lanky Bob," the ex-champion, that he told a falsehood when he asserted that the sparring match between Jeffries and Ruhlin lately was not "on the level." "Fitz" has not been heard from, but Madden doubtless will hear something in due time—by telephone, perhaps.

Snap, Hook and Eye Doesn't Catch.

Snap, Hook and Eye was one of the stocks that the curb market let severely alone today. The brokers were awaiting further developments in the affairs of the company, and nothing was done in the securities. As usual, there was a lot of fun over it among the volatile gentlemen who roost on the edge of the sidewalk and in the roadway of Broad street to do business. They have a way of getting humor out of anything that gets into difficulty or doubt of any kind, and there were any number of offers of fabulously large blocks of Snap, Hook and Eye offered all day at intervals, when nothing else claimed the attention of the jokers.

Island Trolley Strike Possible.

There is danger of a street car strike on Staten island. The power house force has been trying to settle certain grievances it has against the company, and it seems as if the adjustment is not an easy one. If the trolley car service should be paralyzed, as it may be, the Staten islander who perpetually finds fault with his ferry service will have more trouble on his mind than he well can sustain. The self-sufficient Manhattaner growls: "Serves him right for living on Staten island."

Well-Known Yachtsman's Death.

The death of J. V. S. Oddie, secretary of the New York Yacht club is reconnection. He did not always answer, but he could if he desired. He was a man of genial personality, and the members of the club swore by him. He had been ill with kidney trouble not much more than a week, when he died this morning. He was weakened by hard work during the cup races last summer.

Marconi Says He is Well.

Marconi is at the Hoffman house, and he came out to the lobby to deny the rumor that he is not well. He said he is not suffering from a severe cold, but is as well as he could desire to be. He will depart for Liverpool on the Etruria on Saturday, according to his present plans.

Aged Actress Dies in Jail.

Mrs. Fanning, 30 years ago, was a popular actress. She died this morning, friendless and destitute, in Raymond street jail, Brooklyn. She was the original male impersonator in this country, and was admired for her dash and beauty in all the big cities of this country. She was 70 years old when she died this morning. It is probable that she will be buried by some of her former stage associates since she had no relatives so far as is known.

Magistrate Sympathizes With Cupid.

The troubles attendant on courting in a flat came up in a police court in a curious way this morning. Annie McTague, who lives in First avenue, is "keeping company," and when the object of her regard calls upon her in the evening she likes to hear all he has to say. On the floor above Miss McTague's bower lives a family comprising a 12-year-old boy. He seems to have the scorn for love-making common to a boy of his age, and he has been in the habit of thumping upon the floor with his hobnailed shoes simply to annoy Annie McTague. She could not catch all of the golden accents that fell from the lips of her lover, and she had the horrible fear that she missed many tender nothings on that account. So, she slapped the boy—or, he says she did. His mother had Miss McTague arrested for assault, but the magistrate seemed to think she was justified under the circumstances, and dismissed the complaint. New York magistrates are not all devoid of sentiment.

Mrs. Pat's Second New York Success.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell played "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray" at the Theater Republic. This is her first change of bill since she has been in New York, and the house was jammed with the most brilliant audience she has had. It was understood that Paula was her great part and the announcement that she would play it tonight brought out all the first-nighters, together with the social element that delights in problem plays, and which has, for the most part, seen more than one Paula, including Mrs. Kendal and Olga Nethersole. Mrs. Pat played the part with her furious enthusiasm, and reminded many in her audience of Mrs. Carter. There is no question as to Mrs. Campbell's success in New York, and she seems to be getting deeper into the affections of people here as she goes on.

Gamblers Keep Their Doors Locked.

Although the new administration is working hard to put down gambling, the "wise ones" say that there is plenty of it going on. The only difference is that the persons who conduct poolrooms nowadays are doing it with more secrecy than ever exercised under Tammany rule. Even if one has the password and a key to the rooms—as some favored patrons have—it is not always possible to get in. "Nothin' doin'," growls the "look-out," and unless you are vouched for with extraordinary power you cannot get in. That is the way the professional gamblers explain the situation, and it may be the true one.

PERSONALS.

"I have just come from Manila and am on my way to Washington to transact some business in regard to certain concessions in the islands," said S. R. Wilson, a mining broker of San Francisco, Cal., at the Baltimore & Ohio station. "The war is about over, but there will be some desultory fighting in the group for several years, particularly in the island of Samar. The natives of this island appear to be very treacherous and will keep the troops moving for a long time. When the Philippines are fully developed they will be one of 'Uncle Sam's' richest possessions. There is a future in the islands for young men who want to amass wealth. Valuable wood of all kinds is in abundance, awaiting the cutter. The most luscious fruits are subject to cultivation and ready market can be gotten for them. I have no doubt but that many of the islands in the group are rich in minerals and only waiting developments. I brought some ore with me for assay that I hazard will run $800 to the ton. It is rich in color and easily mined. I expect to go back to Manila in April. If I succeed in my present business I will call upon the Sultan of Sulu and there a prospect of his country will be made by the firm I represent."

He was 6 feet 2 inches, and his black beard hung below his waist. He was a typical representative of the wild and woolly west, in the days gone by, and his picturesque figure attracted the attention of the passengers in Union station. "My name," he said, "amounts to nothing in this country, but they know me where I live. No, I won't tell you who I am, but they know my marks on the spring round-up and Armour pays the bills. Why don't you newspaper fellows in Pittsburgh start up an agitation about street signs in your city? I have worn out shoe leather walking four squares past the street I wanted to reach. This scheme of cutting the names of streets in pavements on the corners is not progressive. They cannot be seen from the street cars. The city should put up a clean-cut sign on every street, so that a stranger would know where he was at. Oh, yes, you have some signs of streets in this city, but a person must stand on his head to read them."

The Pittsburgh Typothetae will hold its annual meeting and banquet at the Hotel Henry tonight, when some 75 of the local printers, binders, engravers and others connected with the art preservative, will meet to commemorate Franklin's birthday. The principal speakers will be W. B. McFall, John F. Marthens, Charles F. Warde, F. G. Blair, H. P. Porter, president of the United Typothetae of America; John C. Bragdon, president of the Photo-Engravers of America; Albert F. Edgell, Philadelphia; John Macintyre, Philadelphia; J. F. Alling, Syracuse, N. Y. Percy F. Smith will be toastmaster. Special interest is taken in this event, as it is a forerunner of the meeting of the United Typothetae of America, which will be held here next September.

W. P. Warne, M. B. Hughes, H. R. Meyers, R. N. Knox, J. P. Miller, Jr., and C. L. V. Acheson, representing the Washington county bar, are in the city to attend the funeral of Frank H. Baird, who died on Wednesday at the residence of his brother-in-law, Allan G. Mitchell, Walnut street, East End.

C. W. Phillips and family of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, were passengers to Palm Beach, Fla. Mr. Phillips was also accompanied by his dog, gun and fishing rod. He expects to put in most of his vacation fishing on Indian river.

Francis T. Peacock of Montreal, Canada, is a guest at the Duquesne.

ALPINE GLORY APPEARS FROM RIGI'S HEIGHTS

Switzerland's Grandest View Feature of Teachers' European Tour.

CANDIDATES STILL COME

Division of Territory Cannot Be Changed and Is Entirely Fair. Rules of the Contest That Must Be Observed by All Participants.

The Rigi, or Righi, though not of great height, is the most popular mountain in Switzerland. The Kulm, or summit is a bare spot 5906 feet above sea level and 4,472 feet above the lake of Lucerne. Upon it there is an observatory from which the view is one of the finest in the world, fully 300 miles in circuit. At the foot of the mountain on either side lie lakes Lucerne and Zug, their shores dotted by pretty villages. To the southward is the mouth of the St. Gotthard tunnel and the pass of the same name. Thirty other lakes, in addition to the two named, are visible, including a part of Zurich.

The snow-capped peaks of the Alps stretch away as far as the eye can reach. Broken by valleys and canyons, distant glaciers sparkle in the sunlight, while the nearer and lower slopes present the contrast of the deep, dark green of the hardy forests. Formerly Mount Pilatus, 6,965 feet high, was the favorite ascent of tourists in the vicinity of Lucerne, but it is far more apt to be covered by clouds than the Rigi, so the latter has become much more popular. The ascent is made by cog wheel railway from both the Lake Lucerne and Lake Zug sides. The teachers' party of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will make the ascent from Vitznau on the Lucerne side, after a steamer ride over the lake so rich in the traditions of William Tell and so beautiful in itself.

Lion of Lucerne.

There is much of interest in and about Lucerne besides the Rigi and its famous outlook. The old bridges dating back five to eight centuries; the Lion of Lucerne, cut from the solid rock after Thorwaldsen's design, in honor of the Swiss guards who fell defending the Tuilleries in 1792; the Hoffkirche; the water tower and the Rathhaus, containing a historical and industrial museum and small picture gallery.

That the beauties of this tour are fully appreciated is made evident by the number of candidates who have entered the race for it and the enthusiasm of their supporters. The contest will be lively, but the reward for the winners will be great, while those who fail will lose nothing. The names of new candidates will be found below:

New Candidates of a Day.

Miss Clara E. Singer, Peebles school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Maggie Geiger, Forbes subdistrict, Pittsburgh.

Miss Anna M. Jenkner, Port Perry school, Allegheny county.

Miss Emma Hulme, Holmes school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Frances V. Snyder, Ludwick school, Greensburg, Westmoreland county.

Mr. James N. Rankin, High school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Pauline Mac Intyre, Wilson school, Snowden township, Allegheny county.

Miss Eva M. Crooks, Wilkinsburg, Allegheny county.

Mr. George W. Lachner, Gladden school, Cecil, Pa.

Miss Margaret Herdman, Ninth ward school, Allegheny.

Miss Anna C. Lecky, First ward, Allegheny.

Miss Minnie A. McMunn, Fifth ward, Allegheny.

Miss Anna M. Till, Hiland school, Pittsburgh.

Miss Helen Day, Waynesburg, Greene county, is announced by the Waynesburg Times.

Miss Cynthia M. Manon of Wilkinsburg schools is nominated by a friend who writes from Morristown, Pa.

Prof. G. M. Teegarden of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb at Edgewood is named as a candidate by a friend who writes from Allegheny.

Divisions Are Fair.

Miss Myrtle Magee, principal of the Fourth ward school, Oil City, has withdrawn from the contest in favor of Miss Tisdale, who is a teacher in the same school. Miss Magee's friends had begun voting for her before the other lady was announced.

A candidate in Eastern Ohio has written to inquire if the divisions cannot be rearranged to apportion a definite number to each of the three states included in the division outside of Allegheny county. Of course they cannot. The three divisions: first, Pittsburgh and Allegheny, from which 12 representatives are to be elected; second, Allegheny county outside the two cities named, to elect 6 representatives; and third, the division outside of Allegheny county covering parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, with 7 to elect, were fixed in the beginning after very careful consideration. The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph believe this division of territory could not be improved upon in the interest of fairness to all concerned. Candidates in the cities have about equal chances; those in Allegheny county are on fair terms with each other, and so are those outside the county. All are privileged to get votes anywhere they can, as readers are not obliged to vote for candidates teaching in the division where they reside. Pittsburgh and Allegheny readers may vote for candidates teaching in Ohio or West Virginia, and vice versa.

Rules to Be Observed.

Ballots must be voted in series; those of one series must be deposited before midnight of the day the succeeding series closes. They must be filled out legibly, with full name of teacher, school where employed, town and county. They should be kept in good condition and sent in flat, not rolled or crumpled. If torn or mutilated they will not be counted.

The tour will be of more than six weeks' duration. Starts at Pittsburgh July 3; leaves New York July 5, by Atlantic transport line steamer; arrives London July 16; Antwerp, July 19; Brussels, July 20; Amsterdam, July 22; Cologne, July 24; Mayence, July 25; Heidelberg, July 26; Lucerne, July 28; The Rigi, July 29; Interlaken, July 30; Paris, August 1; London, August 6; Highlands, August 8; Glasgow, August 8; leave Glasgow by Anchor Line steamer Columbus, August 9; expect to arrive New York, August 17.

Who Will Be Taken.

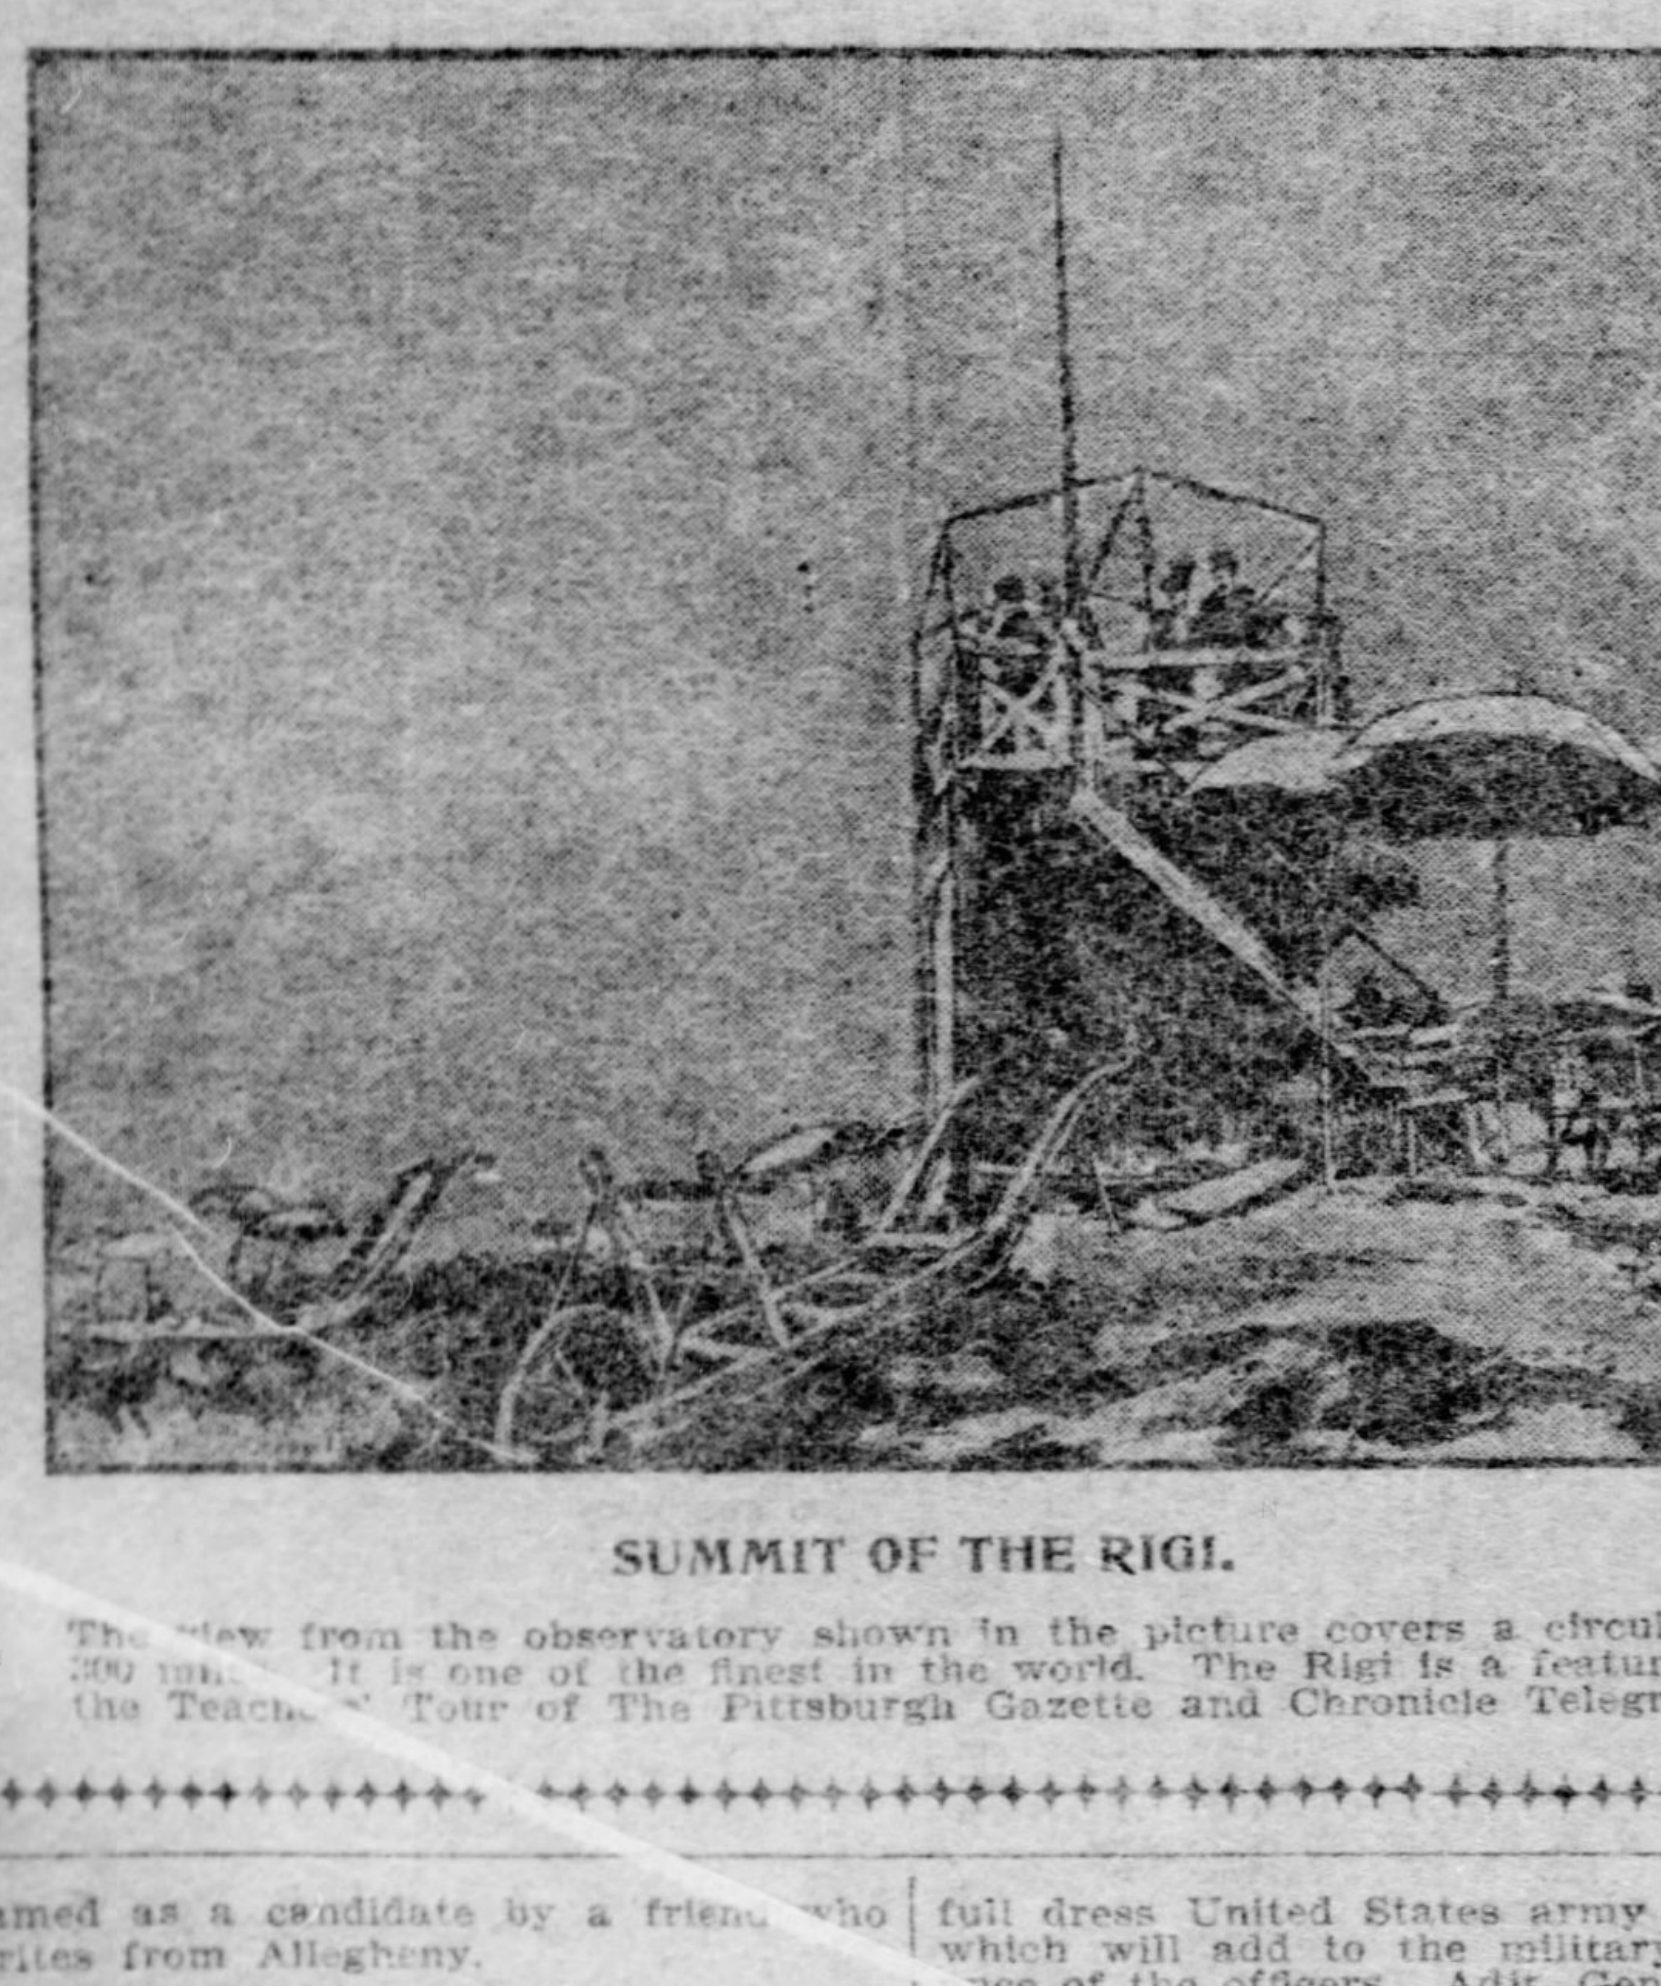
The party will be composed of 25 teachers of the public schools, i. e., persons engaged in teaching in schools supported by public funds. These will be apportioned as follows: Twelve from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, six from Allegheny county outside of the two cities, and seven from those parts of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia outside of Allegheny county, but within the territory covered by the daily deliveries of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph. They will be elected by the readers of these papers. Those having the largest votes in their respective divisions will be declared elected.

All expenses of the tour will be borne by The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph, and these papers will give each member of the party $50 in cash to gratify individual tastes. Representatives of the papers will accompany the party to arrange routes and look after the comfort of the guests.

The contest will close May 31 and the result will be announced as soon after all of the votes are in as possible. Ballots from The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph will count one vote each, and those from The Sunday Gazette will count for three votes each. The ballot will be found at the top of the second page in each issue, and attention is directed to the terms and conditions printed thereon. The whole ballot, including border, must be sent in.



SUMMIT OF THE RIGI.

The view from the observatory shown in the picture covers a circuit of 300 miles. It is one of the finest in the world. The Rigi is a feature of the Teachers' Tour of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph.

The course which opens this morning under the auspices of the service department of the Domestic Arts association consists of 12 lectures, which will be given on succeeding Friday mornings at 10:30 o'clock. ### The Coming Military Ball.

Invitations for the Eighteenth regiment ball will be ready for mailing Saturday. The demands for invitations this year have been three times greater than last year, when the ball was considered a success. It was an experiment at that time, as no military balls had been held here for 40 years. Col. Frank I. Rutledge has received assurances from many military officers throughout the state that they will be present. Many officers of the Eighteenth regiment are securing full dress United States army uniforms which will add to the military appearance of the officers. Adjt. Gen. Thomas J. Stewart, who was injured by jumping from his carriage, but is now convalescent, says he will be present and take part in the grand march if he has to hobble around. Maj. Gen. Charles Miller has also advised Col. Rutledge that he will be present to lead the grand march as he did last year. The floor committee has decided that the grand march will be led by the officers according to rank. The executive committee has secured the ball room of the Schenley, together with the large dining room for dancing.

A Handsome Evening Wrap

Sapphire Blue Velvet and rich lace were combined in this regal garment. It is lined with white satin, and its lines are capable of development in silk, brocade or broadcloth.

FRIDAY, Jan. 17, 1902.

"She gave me eyes, she gave me ears;
And humble cares and delicate fears;
A heart, the fountain of sweet tears;
And love, and thought and joy."
—Wordsworth.

OAK MANOR, the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kirk Porter, for the second time this month was the scene of brilliant entertaining last night. It was the occasion of the small house dance given by Miss Anna Hegeman, the daughter of the house, in honor of two young ladies, Miss Pruyn and Miss Bowditch of Albany, N. Y., who are visiting at Oak Manor. The dance was conducted in the art gallery, where, surrounded by walls upon which hang superb works of art, the figures of the cotillion were danced, an environment as unique as it was beautiful. Seventy invitations were issued for the dance, and the guests included the younger girls and men, with a few young married people and several friends of Mr. and Mrs. Porter. Five figures were danced, the leaders being Starling W. Childs and Russell K. Forsyth, two of the most popular leaders Pittsburgh has ever known.

The hour named upon the invitations was 9 o'clock, and the reception, which preceded the cotillion, was held in the large reception hall, Mrs. Porter standing with her daughter, Miss Hegeman, and her two young house guests, Miss Pruyn and Miss Bowditch. Mrs. Porter, with her snowy hair piled high upon her head, is stately in whatever color she wears. Last night she wore a rich gown of white silk and velvet. Miss Hegeman was gowned in black lace with touches of gold. Miss Pruyn appeared in an exquisitely dainty gown of pink, Miss Bowditch wearing blue.

A graceful balcony surrounds the art gallery and proved a popular place between the different figures of the cotillion last evening, while at the same time it was a strong vantage point for the older people to observe the constantly changing and exceedingly brilliant picture presented upon the main floor. The music of the orchestra was wafted through the palms and tropical plants which filled the conservatory adjoining and opening from the art gallery and the soft velvet carpeting under foot and the prettily shaded lights and trailing vines overhead made it a much frequented resort. The decorations of Oak Manor for the dance last evening were simply arranged. So generous are its proportions, the many rooms opening one from another through wide doorways, that the result is not lavishness, but very artistic. Southern smilax was largely used in the great English reception hall with its immense fireplace, where the logs are constantly burning and the broad staircase leading to the center of the hall. In the drawing room were clusters of white lilies, while American Beauty roses with crimson shaded candelabra provided vividness of color in the dining room and the hall where supper was served at small tables. The favors for the cotillion were artistically arranged and constituted a feature of the decoration of the ballroom. They consisted of art novelties, flowers and curios secured by Miss Hegeman during her trips abroad.

With the conclusion of the last figure of the cotillion the good-nights were said and the sound of carriage wheels crunching the gravel echoed through the night as the guests departed, reaching the avenue by the long winding drive beneath a string of lights reaching to the mansion on the brow of the hill overlooking Oakland.

Among the guests at the dance last night was the Prince Giovanni del Drago, who is the guest for a few days of Harry Kendall Thaw at Lyndhurst, the Thaw residence in Beechwood boulevard.

Dinner for the Prince.

Mrs. William Thaw gave a handsome though informal dinner last evening at Lindhurst, her mansion in the Beechwood boulevard, in honor of Prince Giovanni del Drago, the Spanish prince who has been feted in New York and came to this city as the guest of her son, Harry Kendall Thaw. The guests at the dinner included some of the younger girls and men in Pittsburgh's most exclusive social circle. The hour was 7 o'clock and after the dinner the guests all drove to Miss Hegeman's dance at Oak Manor. Mrs. Thaw's dinner was a very pretty affair, graced by several of of the prettiest girls among the debutante set. The flowers, rich American beauty roses, which formed the centerpiece and were rounded by dainty shaded candles, roses also lying at each cover, were brought from the extensive conservatories of Lyndhurst.

At the dinner were Miss Rebecca Darlington, Miss Anne Prince of Covington, Ky., who is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Winfield K. Shiras; Miss Elizabeth Burd Thaw, Miss Laura McGinley, Miss Ada McCrea, Miss Martha Ferguson, Miss Alice Thaw, Mrs. Thaw's daughter, the Prince del Drago, Josiah Copley Thaw, William Thaw, Arthur Bell, A. E. Painter and Harry Kendall Thaw.

Prince del Drago is touring this country, both for pleasure and to visit the industrial and manufacturing centers for which he professes a profound interest. He is connected with the reigning family in Spain and met Mr. Thaw when in Italy. Their acquaintance begun in Europe, was renewed when the prince came to New York. Yesterday morning after their arrival in Pittsburgh was spent in a tour of the Homestead mills.

Watkins—Morton.

A quiet wedding last evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. L. McCune, Bryant avenue, Bellevue, was that of Miss Anna L. Morton to Harold Wilken Watkins, both of Allegheny. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Wishart of the Eighth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, assisted by the Rev. W. A. Lawrence of Bellevue, in the presence of the near relatives of the families and a few friends.

The bride was attired in a plain French grenedine gown and was attended by Miss Nan Anglin as bridesmaid. Clarence V. Watkins, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. After luncheon was served the newly married couple left on a late train for the east.

Moliere and the Pedants.

In her second lecture, "Moliere and the Pedants," Mrs. Conover yesterday gave graphic pictures of the French scholars of Moliere's day, emphasizing her words with readings from two of his comedies, "Les Precieuses Ridicules," act I, scene 4; and "Les Femmes Savantes," act II, scene 6, and act III, scene 2. The lectures grow in interest as the course proceeds. The next will be delivered next Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the assembly room of the Twentieth Century club, the subject being "The Three Great Comedies," "Tartuffe," "l'Avare" and "Les Misanthrope."

The Carlins Receive.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Carlin gave a reception last evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Milton Babb of Allegheny, whose wedding took place in November. It was a large affair and a couple of hundred guests were in attendance at the reception, whose hours were from 8 o'clock until 12, and Mrs. Carlin and Dr. and Mrs. Babb received together. Assisting them were Mr. Thomas Carlin, Mrs. S. W. McClintock, Mrs. David Marshall, Mrs. William Theodore Stevens, Mrs. Darwin D. Williams, Mrs. John Dean Brown and Miss Alexander of Palestine, Ohio. The house was very handsomely decorated, different flowers appearing in each apartment.

A large formal reception was given on Wednesday evening at the Highland Inn sanitarium in Somerset, the new proprietor of the house, one of the popular places in the mountains near Somerset, having opened it as a sanitarium. J. S. Knowles is the general manager and acted as host on Wednesday evening. A dinner for 30 people was followed by a reception and dance attended by 200, among them being prominent town officials and their wives, together with many citizens and visitors. Among the number were Dr. H. F. Bigger, Jr., the distinguished surgeon of Cleveland, and medical director of the sanitarium; Edwin D. Smith, passenger agent of the Baltimore & Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Scott, Jr., of Somerset; S. Rush Brockenbrough, general freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio; John Scott of Somerset and Sidney F. Heckert, the Pittsburgh architect.

Thorp, treasurer. The committee of arrangements is composed of Mrs. E. J. Lloyd, Mrs. J. B. Graham, Mrs. W. N. Anderson, Mrs. A. G. Campbell and Mrs. U. N. Burt.

Reception for Mrs. Fownes.

Mrs. Sarah Clark Fownes received yesterday afternoon from 2 o'clock until 5, her guest of honor being Mrs. Edwin Stanton Fownes of Murray Hill avenue, East End. The reception was conducted at the hostess' residence in Penn avenue and a large number of invitations were sent out. Assisting the receiving ladies were Mrs. J. C. Bockstoce, Mrs. Charles Sullivan, Mrs. Kease, Mrs. George Scott, Mrs. J. H. Letsche, Mrs. William White, Miss Sara Keller, Miss Adelaide Lare and Miss Patterson.

The reception was followed by a dinner for the assistants and in the evening they were the guests at a handsome euchre.

Dreyfuss Will Stand by Spalding

SAYS PIRATES WILL STICK TO OLD LEAGUE

President Dreyfuss Denies Report He Will Jump to American.

IN THE FIGHT TO A FINISH

Promised to Stand by Spalding and Will Keep His Word—New Twelve Club League Is Figured Out by an Eastern Expert.

They are at it again out in Chicago. First the windy writers of the Windy City attempted to disrupt the Pirates and went so far as to assign some of Fred Clarke's men to other teams. This story was no sooner denied than they sprung another, and this last one was a hummer. They simply took the Pirates, bag and baggage, and shoved the whole caboodle over into the American league.

The story printed in Chicago yesterday morning and heralded to the world on Thursday night was to the effect that President Dreyfuss had notified A. G. Spalding that he must end the National league muddle in four days or he would jump to the American league, and that Ban Johnson was ready to greet Dreyfuss and his team with open arms. This made a nice little story and it read all right in Chicago, and it likewise was a pleasing bit of information to the Brush-Freedman combine, because it looked like a weakening of the Spalding forces, but unfortunately it was not true, and it is another case of "Love's labor lost."

Dreyfuss Denies the Report.

As soon as the report reached Louisville, where President Dreyfuss is still hibernating, the Pirates' leader at once sent out telegrams stating that there was not one word of truth in the report and that the Pittsburgh club would remain in the National league and stick to A. G. Spalding to the finish. That the finish of the muddle is not far off is the belief of the Pittsburgh leader, who probably knows more about Mr. Spalding's plans than any other club owner, but he is keeping very close mouthed about the matter. President Dreyfuss is expected home from Louisville either today or tomorrow. Then there may be some baseball news worth the knowing.

Discussing the rumored flop of the Pittsburgh club, Joe Villa, who is a strong advocate of Spalding, has the following to say in the New York Sun:

"Whether this report is true or not, it shows what can be done by the four Spalding clubs when they are convinced that the Freedman crowd will not give way. Brooklyn, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Chicago can readily apply to the American league for franchises. Then, with new clubs in this city and Cincinnati, a 12-club circuit be organized, made up in this way:

New Twelve Club League.

Boston—American league club, owned by C. W. Somers and others.

Brooklyn—National league club, owned by F. A. Abell, H. R. Von der Horst, C. H. Ebbets and Edward Hanlon.

New York—New club, owned by E. B. Talcott and a local syndicate.

Philadelphia—Combination of the National league and American league clubs, the new concern to be owned by A. J. Reach, John J. Rogers and Benjamin Shibe.

Baltimore—American league club, owned by a company, including John J. McGraw and Wilbert Robinson.

Washington—American league club, owned by Fred Postal and others.

Chicago—Combination of National league and American league clubs, the new concern to be controlled by Charles Comiskey.

Pittsburgh—National league club, champions, owned and controlled by Barney Dreyfuss.

St. Louis—American league club, just established there, owned by Matt Killilea and others, formerly of Milwaukee.

Cincinnati—New club, owned by the Ferris syndicate.

Detroit—American league club, with new owners and Frank Dwyer manager.

Cleveland—American league club, controlled by J. F. Kilfoyle and others.

All of these clubs would control the best playing talent in America and with Ban Johnson president, having full powers to enforce the rules as in the past, there would be very little friction and plenty of good sport.

Was a Mistake to Reduce.

Baseball men, including even Brush, admit that it was a fatal mistake to reduce the National league circuit two years ago from 12 to eight clubs, for the reason that it permitted the American league to expand by moving into the east. Therefore it is within reason to expect a further expansion to 12 clubs on the part of the American league in order to kill off what remains of the once powerful National league, and in so doing President Johnson can employ National league timber to effectually cinch a plan that seems the only feasible way out of the present difficulty.

WILL FIGHT THE WESTERN.

A. B. Beall Says He Will Tie Up Half the Clubs.

SIOUX CITY, IA., Jan. 16.—A. B. Beall, who was expelled from the Western Baseball league at Kansas City on the charge of unloading the Minneapolis franchise, declares, since his return home, that he will fight the Western league to a finish.

"They can't rob me and expect me to submit peacefully," he said. "I hold the Denver franchise, and I propose to hold it. I will tie them up in Kansas City and St. Joe, and if they attempt to play ball in Sioux City I will tie them up here. I would not want anything better than to fight them on my own ground. I have no personal enmity against any man who may get a franchise in Sioux City, but I will oppose the league here to the utmost of my ability. The talk of getting Indianapolis and Milwaukee into the Western league is nonsense."

SHOULD BE VERY WARM.

Keystone and P. A. C. Teams Will Meet Tonight.

The Keystone and the rejuvenated P. A. C.'s will play a game in the Western Pennsylvania hockey league series this evening at Duquesne Garden, and the last year's champions will make every effort to defeat the Keystones, as they did the Bankers Tuesday night. Between the halves John and Fannie Davidson will show their remarkable skill on the ice. The samples of the handsome silver trophy to be given the hockey winners by W. S. Brown arrived yesterday and a selection will likely be made this week. Tonight's lineup will be as follows:

| P. A. C. | | Keystone. |
|---|---|---|
| Lamb | Goal | Herr |
| Hamilton | Point | Peel |
| Carlin | Cover point | Bisch |
| Robinson | Center | Sexsmith |
| Reynor | Forward | Morrison |
| Shields | Left wing | Westcott |

PAY YOUR TAXES AND CAST YOUR VOTE.

All taxes must be paid on or before next Saturday. That is the last day on which a tax receipt can be issued that will qualify a citizen to vote at the February city election. Voters will do well to give their immediate attention to this, for the law says no man can vote who has not paid a state or county tax within two years and at least thirty days before election day.

MAHER AND SHARKEY WILL MEET IN SIX ROUND BOUT.

The Man With the Punch Who Gets There First Will Win—Both Men in Shape for Bruising Battle—The Fitz-Choynski Bout.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 16.—The bout between Peter Maher, the Irish champion, and Thomas Sharkey, the noted sailor pugilist, will occur tomorrow evening at Industrial hall. On the occasion of their first engagement at the Lenox club, New York, in 1901, which was stopped in the middle of the seventh round, there was little or nothing to choose between the pair at the finish, although naturally the partisans of the men claimed that their favorite had the better of it.

It is not claimed for either Sharkey or Maher that he exhausts the possibilities of the boxing game. Neither can be called clever in the way that Corbett and McCoy won fistic distinction. Each has sacrificed speed to acquire power, and as a result both are there with the punch, and it is the punch, after all, that generally lands the coin. Each belongs to the rugged school of boxers—the class that is not afraid to take a punch in order to get in one. Maher will have the advantage of height and reach, but every natural advantage will be with Sharkey. William H. Rocap has been selected by the principals to referee the bout.

The first preliminary will be put on at 8:45, and Billy Fairburn will meet "Kid" Stein. Joe O'Hara will try conclusions with Lew Ryall. Jack Haggerty of Trenton will take on "Young" Fisher of Brooklyn, and the "Kentucky Rosebud" will try to attend to the case of "Kid" Fitzgerald.

Relative to the proposed six-round bout between Bob Fitzsimmons and Joe Choynski, which is intended as a try out for the Australian, word has been received from Choynski, and he says: "I know nothing of a match with Fitzsimmons, only what I read in the papers. I presume Julian thinks if he can secure 'Fitz's' consent to meet me I will jump at the opportunity. Bob may be the drawing card, but he cannot swell the box office receipts without an opponent, and if I am to be that opponent I will have something to say regarding the division of the purse.

"Will I fight Fitz? Well, I cannot say. I never dodged anybody, and if they show me what end of the pay car I am to get on I'll talk business."

WILSON STILL SICK.

Pittsburgh Boy Can't Ride, but His Partner Keeps It Up.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—World's records are being broken every hour at the six-days' bicycle race on the 12-lap track at the Second regiment armory. Records began to go by the board at the 18th hour last night, and at the close of tonight's racing four leading teams were 17 3-5 miles ahead of the world's best figures for 32 hours on a 12-lap indoor track. The wonder of the contest is Gougoltz. Notwithstanding his eight hours of hard riding yesterday he was on the track for seven hours today. His partner, Wilson, is not well enough to stand the fast pace set by the other leaders. The four leading teams covered 104 miles during the entire eight hours of today's racing. The score at the close of the race tonight was as follows: McEachern and Monroe, 677 miles; Freeman and Mayo, 677 miles; Gougoltz and Wilson, 677 miles; Leander and Rutz, 677 miles; Chevalier and Fisher, 676 miles 11 laps; Hadfield and King, 676 miles 9 laps; Mueller and Barclay, 676 miles 1 lap.

RESERVED THE DECISION.

The Supreme Court Now Has the Lajoie Case.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Jan. 16.—The supreme court today heard argument on the appeal of the Philadelphia ball club, limited, from the decision of the common pleas court in the club's suit in equity against Napoleon Lajoie and the Philadelphia American league baseball club. Lajoie transferred his services from the first named organization to the American league club and the lower court refused to grant an injunction restraining him from playing baseball as a member of that club. An appeal was taken to the supreme court, and it was this appeal which was argued today. Decision was reserved.

FAILED TO MEET.

Water Polo Match May Yet Be Arranged.

The representatives of the D. C. & A. C. and H. L. A. C. water polo teams failed to meet last night to arrange their match. The red and black representatives were on hand but the Steeltown people were not. Later in the evening Manager Meighan and Capt. Dailey of H. L. A. C. appeared and stated that they were not aware that a meeting had been called. It was then agreed that the representatives of both teams will meet in this office at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, when the match will likely be consummated.

WANTS ONE RACE.

Kentucky Association Will Make a Strong Bid.

LEXINGTON, KY., Jan. 16.—Secretary Wilson of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' association today sent telegrams to T. W. Lawson and F. E. Smithers, making a bid for either the Boralma-Lord Derby or Boralma-The Abbot match race, for this track. The inducement was not stipulated in the message, but will receive attention later.

Geneva Team to Play Mt. Union.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The Geneva basketball team will go to Alliance on Saturday to play the Mt. Union college team of that place. The Mt. Union team won the intercollegiate championship of Ohio last season, has been playing a strong game this year and will no doubt give the Geneva boys a hard struggle. Geneva will be placed at a disadvantage in that they are used to baskets placed 12 inches from the wall, as provided under National league rules, whereas Mt. Union uses baskets placed only six inches from the screen, according to A. A. A. U. rules.

BRITISH LABOR LEADER IS HERE

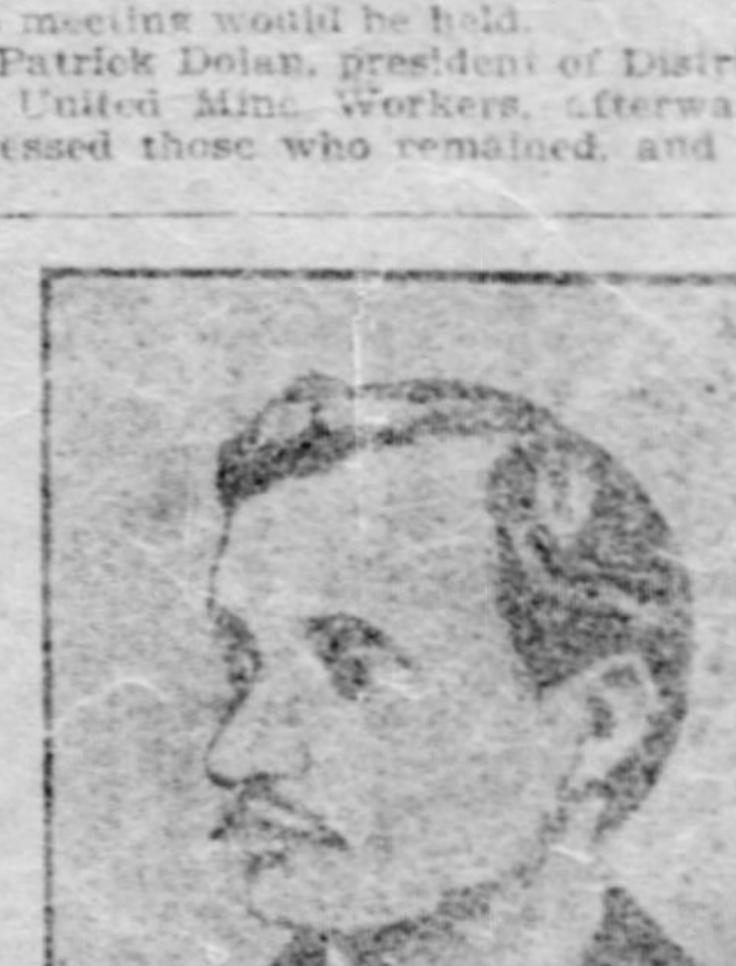
BEN TILLETT, HEAD OF DOCK HANDS, WILL SPEAK TONIGHT.

Owing to Misunderstanding Meeting Last Night Was Not Started on Time, and Audience Had Departed—Mr. Tillett Sees Great Future for Labor.

Ben Tillett, one of the most prominent labor leaders of England, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain here until tonight or tomorrow, as the guest of organized workingmen of this city. Arrangements had been made for an address by Mr. Tillett at Old City hall last night, but owing to a misunderstanding the hall was not opened until quite late. In consequence the large crowd that had assembled departed with the impression that no meeting would be held.

Patrick Dolan, president of District No. 5, United Mine Workers, afterward addressed those who remained, and it was arranged to have Mr. Tillett address a meeting at the same place tonight. From indications a big audience will be present.



Ben Tillett.

Mr. Tillett is the leader of the dock hands of England, one of the most powerful labor organizations in that country. He has been in the United States for the past two months, as a delegate from the British Trades congress to the convention of the American Federation of Labor; also to visit some relatives living in Pennsylvania.

He has the reputation of being one of the most eloquent speakers of the cause in which he is engaged. In a few remarks last night, upon his introduction by Mr. Dolan, he gave those present an idea of the quality of his forensic powers. In a few moments he had aroused his hearers to enthusiasm.

During a brief talk, after the meeting, Mr. Tillett said that the movement toward organizing all kinds of labor in the United States had impressed him greatly, but it had not yet reached the perfection of organization existing in England. There was more unity of purpose and understanding in the latter country. The working classes were more fully aroused to the necessity of concerted action, and no movement was made without a most thorough understanding of its purpose.

In the meetings he had addressed in this country the warmth of his reception and the manner in which his views were received convinced him that labor was eagerly watching and studying the processes by which its aims and ideas were to be fostered and maintained. He predicted a great future for organized labor in this country.

Simms Has a New Manager.

AKRON, O., Jan. 16.—(Special.)—Art Simms, Akron's lightweight pugilist, now has another manager. Simms has had a large number of managers in the past two years, but he now says he has found the right one in Bert Matheson of Buffalo. Matheson has already secured the promise of two or three good bouts, provided Simms beats Duffy next week at Detroit, one of them with Frank Erne.

RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16.—River 11.3 feet and falling slowly. Partly cloudy; high winds. The ice is still very heavy here. The flag on the landing was at half mast out of respect for Jack Moore, who died suddenly a few days ago. He was a carpenter on the Bonanza. Harry Collins, son of Val P. Collins, was on change yesterday for the first time in three years. The younger Collins has been engaged in the coal mining business during his absence in the Kanawha region. A few weeks ago he sold out his belongings and is now looking around for another business location. Capt. Jacob Riggs' recent purchase, the Emma Cooper, was out for the first time yesterday doing harbor work here, where she will remain. The Douglas Hall arrived with a tow from the Kanawha. The H. F. Frisbie is due in the morning with a tow of lumber from the Tennessee. River pilots are warned to pass between the two white lights on the wreck left by the Jim Wood on the Rising Sun dyke. The Ed Roberts is having new boilers put in during her lay up.

LOUISVILLE—River falling; canal, 6.4 feet; falls, 3.10 feet; foot of locks, 9.6 feet. Business good. Cloudy; threatening rain or snow. Canal full of ice. Considerable floating ice in the river today, but no serious hindrance to navigation. It is worse on towboats and their tows than on the packets, which go and come on time.

MARIETTA—River 4.5 feet and falling. Cool. No boats.

STEUBENVILLE—River 3 feet 7 inches and falling. Snowing and cold.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet 3 inches and stationary. Cloudy.

GALLIPOLIS—River 6 feet 5 inches and falling. Cloudy and cold.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet 6 inches and closed. Cloudy and warmer.

WARREN—River 1 foot 2 inches. Cloudy and cold.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet, stationary and closed. Colder and threatening.

PARKERSBURG—River 5.8 feet and falling. Snowing steadily tonight. All boats are ice-bound.

POINT PLEASANT—River 5 feet 5 inches and falling. Cloudy and cool. Ice still running. No boats.

LITTLE COAL AFLOAT.

The Cincinnati Market Is Depleted and Kanawha Coal Gaining Favor.

Coal operators returning from Cincinnati say that there is less coal afloat in that market than there has been for many years, when it is considered that there have been five rises since navigation opened in November. There is little coal in any of the coal landings. Early in the week there were four boats and four barges in Marmets harbor, and about a dozen crafts at Coal Haven, while in the Kanawha and Ohio landing there were five pieces. There were few pieces in Mill creek and Flemings landing, and no Pittsburgh coal was afloat at Willow Run landing. The amount at Stewarts landing could not be learned.

According to the annual statement issued by the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, the amount of Pittsburgh coal marketed at Cincinnati last year was 17,000,000 bushels, against 25,000,000 bushels the preceding year. It is said that the reason of such a large falling off is very apparent. Since the completion of the locks and dams on the Kanawha river, the Kanawha operator has been given a decided advantage in marketing fuel, and the consumption of Kanawha coal in the Cincinnati market has increased largely, as a result of these improvements.

The Kanawha operators, Pittsburgh rivermen contend, will not have such a decided advantage in marketing their coal when the Ohio river is improved by a system of locks and dams. Pittsburgh operators admit that Kanawha coal is gaining a strong foothold at Cincinnati, and that the far south now offers the best market for the Pittsburgh product.

Notes.

No arrivals or departures yesterday.

At Davis island dam at 9 o'clock last night the gage of water was 3 feet 8 inches and falling.

The towboat Volunteer is laid up at Logstown.

Albert Haigh, who has been in Cincinnati for several months, returned from there yesterday.

The steamer Rose Hite went as far as Rices landing, on the Monongahela river, and is expected in port today.

River prophets say there will be no flood this February, but a big rise is prophesied for the latter part of January.

Samuel Wood and James White are piloting the towboat Exporter, now on her way to New Orleans, where the boat is due.

There is no sign of a settlement in the pilots' strike, each side remaining firm. Rivermen say that the next rise in the rivers may change the conditions.

Capt. Joseph Price, president of the Pittsburgh Masters and Pilots' society, was not at his office yesterday, his mother-in-law having died Wednesday at her home in Braddock.

The accident to the Jim Wood at Rising Sun, where the boat sunk three barges loaded with steel rails, was caused by the tow striking a sunken barge dropped there by the towboat J. B. Finley.

The Panhandle railroad bridge, which crosses the Monongahela river, near Tenth street, will be rebuilt, the work having been started. The channel span will have a clear passage of 367 feet.

There is some ice running out of the Allegheny river, but it is not heavy. The ice in some of the pools of the Monongahela is quite thick, but the steamers are plowing through it as best they can.

Thomas Axton of Brownsville, Pa., was in Pittsburgh yesterday on business. The sand dredgeboat being constructed for T. J. Garlick will be launched from the ways of A. Axton & Son early next week.

If the Ohio river rises five feet the Valiant, which is aground at Letart Falls, will be floated. It is reported that the boat was shoving a loaded tow and pulling an empty one when she went aground.

The towboat Oulland, owned by the Peoples Coal Company, arrived at Louisville yesterday morning from New Orleans, and will stay there until a tow of coal is sent to her from Pittsburgh, when she will depart for New Orleans with it.

The National Association of Masters and Pilots, now in session at Washington, will ask the supervising inspectors of steam vessels to rescind the order compelling passengers to stay out of the pilot houses of western and southern river steamboats.

Capt. R. M. Boyt says that there is a disposition to stop naming vessels after individuals. He avers that some steamboatmen believe that steamers named after persons are not as successful as those named after objects. He says, however, that rivermen as a rule are superstitious.

Acting on the [illegible] of B. S. Rodey, delegate in congress from New Mexico, the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers Pilots' society has taken action urging the admission of New Mexico to the union before the beginning of the St. Louis world's fair, and Secretary Brown will acquaint the Missouri members of congress with the society's attitude.

CONSUMPTION

ISTHMIAN CANAL COMMISSION FOR PANAMA ROUTE

It Is Said Prof. Haupt Is Only Member Who Sticks to Nicaragua.

COLOMBIA VERY WILLING

The New San Blas Project to Be Considered Today—Senator Morgan Goes to the White House and Hears News Not to His Liking.

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

[BY CITY TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—The isthmian canal commission held two sessions today, and it is announced that its report on the Panama Canal Company's offer is almost ready. The news in The Gazette of last Monday that the commission would, by a majority vote, report in favor of the adoption of the Panama route, in view of the offer of the French company to sell for $40,000,000, is confirmed by the announcement made by a distinguished engineer today that there probably will be only one dissenting vote to the revised report.

When the commission came to make its first report to the president more than a year ago the commission showed a disposition to divide between Nicaragua and Panama. For Nicaragua were Rear Admiral Walker, Prof. Haupt, Col. Haines, Prof. Alfred Noble and Samuel Pasco. For Panama were Col. Ernst, George S. Morrison, William H. Burr and Prof. Johnson.

The Commission Compromise.

The two interests finally agreed to make a single report, in which the points in favor of the two routes were fairly given, and the report was made to favor Nicaragua, only because of the price at which the Panama property was held by the French company.

It is now said that all the members of the commission except Prof. Haupt are in favor of recommending the Panama route to the president, in the light of the new offer of the Panama company to sell.

The commission had before it today William Nelson Cromwell, counsel, and E. A. Drake, vice president of the Panama railroad. These gentlemen had been asked to appear as the representatives of the holders of 1,500 shares of stock of the Panama railroad, which are owned in this country and England, and are not covered by the offer of the Panama Canal Company. This is said to be the only complication in the way of the obtaining of a clear title to all the property by the United States government. The concession of the Panama railroad, as well as of the Panama canal, must be extinguished.

No Trouble With Colombia.

Senator Morgan having denied that Colombia had given ample assurances to this government that it would enter into negotiations with the United States for the granting of a new concession in case the United States bought the Panama property, the Colombian minister today called on Secretary Hay and made the matter so clear that there can be no doubt of the intentions of Colombia.

Senator Morgan, the champion of Nicaragua, received a shock today, when he went to the White house to see the president about what he had been doing to get the Panama offer before congress. At the last meeting of the inter-oceanic canal committee this colloquy took place:

Senator Hanna—I want the report on Nicaragua delayed until the Panama offer has been considered.

Senator Morgan—It is not worth waiting for.

Senator Hanna—Well, the president thinks it is worth waiting for.

Senator Morgan—What do you mean by that?

Morgan Hears Some News.

Senator Hanna—I mean that the president has asked Admiral Walker to call the canal commission together so it can make a supplemental report for him which he intends to send to congress.

Senator Morgan—Don't believe anything of the kind.

Senator Hanna—Suppose you ask the president.

Senator Morgan—I will see him and report to the committee.

So Senator Morgan saw the president today, and to his surprise and chagrin the president told him what everybody else has for a week, that he had asked for a meeting of the canal commission so that there might be a reconsideration of the report if the commission deemed it proper. When he left the White House Senator Morgan was very much depressed and refused to say a word.

There will be a meeting of the canal committee tomorrow, and Gen. Serrell and his associates, who are supporting the new San Blas route, will be given a hearing.

YOUNGSTER TOO FORWARD.

New Commerce Department Bill Criticised in Senate for Taking in Too Many Bureaus.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—The senate today for a brief time had under consideration the bill creating a department of commerce and the discussion tended to show that the measure will have to be amended in many particulars before it can receive the approval of the senate.

Serious objections were raised to the transfer to the proposed department of several important bureaus now a part of other departments of the government. It was pointed out that if the bill as reported become a law it would create the greatest department of the government and that the secretary of commerce would have more power even than the secretary of the treasury. Notice of several important amendments was given.

Mr. Hale sharply criticised the bill. He said the measure so suddenly flashed upon the senate creates the largest department in the government. It does not begin in a modest way, but ransacks every department of the government for important bureaus to dump into the new department. The new secretary of commerce would become the most important member of the cabinet.

INDIAN AGENCY OVERAWED.

Agent Clifford at Tongue River Asks for Troops to Keep Turbulent Redskins in Order.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 16.—Five Indians were killed during the recent trouble at the Tongue river agency in Montana, according to the official report received by Commissioner of Indian Affairs Jones today from Agent Clifford. The agent recommends that 50 men from the United States army under command of a commissioned officer be stationed permanently at Camp Merritt, near the agency.

The report shows that the recent trouble began on the 4th inst., when two Indian police reported that an Indian named White, the center figure in the affair, had fresh beef in his cabin, coincident with the unlawful killing and mutilation of several head of cattle east of Tongue river. White refused to surrender three times and offered to fight. Then Private White Shield and six other policemen went for White, finding him on a hill near his cabin. They had instructions to avoid trouble, if possible, as White was a desperate character and a leader in the Messiah troubles.

Little Bear, another Indian, made an inflammatory speech and White's wife and daughter gave a war cry and tried to stab White Shield. White shot and killed an Indian policeman named Bullard and killed one horse and wounded another horse.

The police were repulsed and were returning home when they were again fired upon. They did not shoot. White threatened to raid the agency and the entire police force was held in reserve for some time.

On the 8th inst. White and his wife, son and daughter were found dead. It was believed that the son opposed his father surrendering himself and killed the father and the others of the family and then committed suicide. Black Crane and about 25 other Indians also threatened trouble and the troops were called out, but there were no further developments.

Nervous Prostration

Given up by the Doctors. She was kept alive from day to day by injecting food into her body. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer restored her to perfect health.

MRS. MARY LINSEA
Charlotte, Mich.
NERVOUS PROSTRATION
—BY—
WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

Such cures as the one recorded below has the semblance of a miracle, but there is nothing marvelous about them. The simple facts are that Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer will cure any case of Nervous Prostration, no matter how far advanced it may be.

"I was stricken with nervous prostration and severe irritation of the spinal nerves so bad that I was confined to my bed—could neither eat nor sleep. It was necessary to inject liquid food into my body to keep me alive. The many physicians who treated me were unable to help and finally gave me up to die. While in that condition I was advised to try Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. I could feel the good effects of the third dose, and the first bottle helped me so much that my friends could hardly believe so much benefit could be derived from so little treatment. After using three bottles I was entirely cured and I was my healthy self again. Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer certainly saved my life and I can recommend it to anyone afflicted with any nervous trouble. Mrs. Mary Linsea, Charlotte, Mich."

There is no form of nervous diseases from Sleeplessness to Epileptic Fits that will not yield to Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Proof will be sent to anyone making the request.

For sale by druggists, or by express, prepaid. $1.00 per bottle, 6 for $5.00.

One hundred and ninety-six years ago today, January 17, 1706, Franklin was born. His advice on dress and business is interesting in connection with the offer we make today:

"When 'tis fair, be sure to take your great coat with you."

"The use of money is all the advantage there is in having money."

"Learn of the skillful; he that teaches himself hath a fool for a master."

If you are not skilled in judging of cloth and clothing let us point out to you the difference between "our own" and the usual ready-made clothing—let us prove to you that you save $5 buying an overcoat here today.

EDITOR TOOK BACK CHARGES AGAINST DOLAN

Louis Goazion Said He Was Sorry He Published Statements.

SALARIES ARE INCREASED

President and Secretary-Treasurer Will Receive an Advance of $10 a Month in Their Wages—Results of Elections Are Announced.

The continuation of the report of the committee on resolutions, the report of the secretary-treasurer of the organization and a debate on a charge brought against Louis Goazlou, former member of the executive board and editor of the Labor Union, a paper published at Charleroi in the French language, took up most of the time of the fourth day's session of the mine workers yesterday. The Goazlou proceedings were expunged from the minutes after Goazlou expressed regret for publishing certain charges against Secretary-Treasurer William Dodds and President Patrick Dolan.

Dodds charged that Goazlou had violated his obligation as a member of the miners' union in having published the charges that Dolan and Dodds were knowingly serving the coal operators and had resisted the demand for a 20 per cent increase in day laborers' wages.

Knew Nothing of Charges.

The accused officers knew nothing of these charges until somebody sent them a copy of the paper and the articles had been translated. The debate was resumed after luncheon and was settled by Goazlou saying he regretted having made the charges.

The committee on resolutions reported and the convention adopted and incorporated in the constitution a provision that the salary of the president and the secretary-treasurer should be $85 a month, an increase of $10 a month, and the pay of the members of the district executive board should be $3 a day, instead of the present pay of $2 75 a day, with all necessary expenses. The salaries of the president and secretary-treasurer are to be advanced in proportion to any increase in the price per ton of mining coal.

Deplored Accident.

A resolution expressing sorrow for the accident in which County Superintendent of Schools Samuel Hamilton almost lost his life and extending the convention's sympathy to Mr. Hamilton and his family was adopted.

Vice President Uriah Bellingham made a verbal report on the work of his office during the past year, and Secretary-Treasurer Dodds read his report. He said that by actual count the district had a total membership of 10,518, but this did not mean that the per capita tax was paid regularly. Mines understood to be organized were not paying their per capita tax on the full number checked off on the companies' pay rolls or by individual payment to the local unions.

Payments Were Short.

The per capita receipts for the year ending November 30 were $7,613 15, and the amount received from the 25 cents monthly assessment was $1,148, which was not half the amount that should have been paid. Mr. Dodds complimented President Dolan for his work done in aid of the victims of the Port Royal disaster and in behalf of the project to build a workingmen's hospital.

Reports were received from the organizers and the executive board, and the convention gave a vote of thanks to all the officers whose reports had been heard. Resolutions were adopted thanking Andrew Carnegie for his generous offer to build a hospital in Pittsburgh, and thanking the contributors to the Port Royal disaster fund.

Results of Elections.

The tellers reported that the following officers had been elected:

President Patrick Dolan of McDonald, 2,793 votes; vice president, Uriah Bellingham, Bankville, 2,160; secretary-treasurer, William Dodds, 2,550; national executive board, William Little, Sunny Side, 1,575; district executive board, Albert Reno, Arnold City, 1,388; Mathew Kerrigan, Cuddy, 1,168; Thomas Brown, Carnegie, 982; Edward Soppitt, Speers, 913; Charles Wallis, Carnegie, 850; Frank McKenna, Fayette City, 834.

William McCorkle of Elizabeth and F. Kulow of Charleroi, who also ran for vice president, received 390 and 198 votes respectively. James Heffran of Speers, who opposed Secretary Dodds, received 212 votes. For the national executive board Edward McKay got 805 votes, H. E. Callan 65, and H. McLaughlin 420.

There were 55 candidates for the six places on the district executive board. Those who received more than 200 votes are the following: Thomas Sheehan, Graddlun, 559; John A. Thomas, Irwin, 219; J. M. Wray, Leechburg, [illegible]; Samuel Pardoe, Charleroi, 232; Andre [illegible]son, McDonald, 208; Joseph Glancey, Allenport, 394; Vic Deloche, McDonald, 512; James Watchorn, California, 548; Mathew Chalton, Webster, 315; John McGinty, New Eagle, 326; John Foote, Banksville, 325; Wilson Conner, Hope Church, 426; Patrick Finney, Carnegie, 218; F. C. Winbush, Monongahela, 24[illegible]; S. Pezzarossi, Carnegie, 459; Paul Trimen, Bowerton, 357; George Dagger, Shire Oaks, 261.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?

If You Haven't, You Will Be Surprised at the Trouble It Saves.

"If I had known how much time and trouble having an account current and paying all my bills by check would save me, I would have opened an account long ago," said a school teacher the other day, when she came to the offices of the Mercantile Trust Company, 413-415 Wood street, to deposit her salary. Not only school teachers, but everybody who handles money should have a checking account in the Mercantile, where your daily balance earns 2 per cent—4 per cent interest on savings accounts. 113uwyl

WIRE BUSINESS NOW PICKING UP AT LIVELY RATE

Pittsburgh Agreement and Trade Conditions Are Contributing Causes.

SEASON STARTS EARLY

The United States Steel Corporation in Accord With the Arrangement. Tardy Consumers Having Trouble in Getting Steel Early in the Year.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—In spite of technical disavowals and protestations of indifference it develops satisfactorily enough that the United States Steel Corporation is in accord with the agreement concluded in Pittsburgh by manufacturers of steel wire products. Independent producers, apparently by tacit understanding, refrain from questioning the "official" attitude of the American Steel and Wire Company, and are content to say merely that the Pittsburgh conference had the approval of the American Steel and Wire Company. Had the combine been opposed to the formation of a pool for the regulation of prices and output, the new agreement, say independents, never would have been made.

The American Steel and Wire Company is understood to have assured the independents who subscribed to this agreement that they might depend upon the support of the American Steel and Wire Company.

The Season Opens Early.

In wire-producing circles it was said today prices would have advanced on general market conditions without the aid of a co-operative movement. One of the largest independent interests said to your correspondent today that the current demand for wire products is heavier than at any corresponding period in the history of the trade.

"The season," said he, "has opened at least two months earlier than we expected. Buyers have been holding off on the theory that wire products, particularly wire nails, would seek a lower level. Evidently they are convinced that bottom has been reached and are now anxious to replenish their supplies before the market becomes any stronger.

"The result of the Pittsburgh conference, to be sure, has imparted further strength to the market, but the demand even for wire nails is so brisk that prices for that product inevitably would have advanced of their own accord. Judging from present indications, I venture to predict that the consumption of wire products this year will exceed that of any previous year. The foreign demand was never better. Exports would be in greater volume if producers were compelled by the state of the domestic market to develop an outlet abroad."

Troubles of the Late Consumer.

Rogers, Brown & Co. review the iron and steel situation in the following cheerful light:

The first fortnight of the new year brings much to confirm the hopeful view with which the old year closed. Generally speaking, it may be said that the business for the first half of 1902 is done. This relates not only to ore, coke and pig iron, but to rails, structural forms, bars, sheets and most other lines which make tonnage. The business now current, runs largely toward the third and fourth quarters of the year. Belated buyers who need further supplies for the first half are having their troubles. The contracts that are being placed for the third and fourth quarters of the year are the best evidence of the sentiment of the trade with respect to the future.

It is often remarked by experienced manufacturers that the long look ahead has not been so clear for decades. It is not doubted that troubles will come in time, but the prospect is singularly free from them at the moment. While in sections serious trouble is still experienced from the car famine, yet there is substantial relief at most centers.

For the first time, the English iron trade is beginning to lift up its head. Prices of Scotch and Middlesboro pig have advanced 25 cents a ton during the week, under improved demand and better feeling. There are signs also that in Germany the process of liquidation is well advanced.

The iron trade views with satisfaction the further cut in copper. Just as the abnormally higher figures of the past year tended to restrict new operations in certain lines, so the abnormally low figures now current should stimulate demand.

The price changes of the week have been unimportant, but have all been in the direction of firmness. The basis of $12 Birmingham and $16 Lehigh Valley for No. 2 foundry, and $16 at valley furnaces for Bessemer, is now well established.

Mexican Coke Enterprise.

The introduction here of the securities of the Mexican Coal and Coke Company has called attention to an undertaking about which hitherto comparatively little has been heard. The company's outstanding securities comprise $1,800,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, and $5,000,000 capital stock.

The Mexican Coal and Coke Company was formed by American interests to operate fields near Barroteran, on the line of the Mexican National railroad. The original property embraced 4,000 acres of coal lands, estimated to contain 40,000,000 tons of coal, and subsequent purchases have given the company absolute control of the entire basin.

The mines are said now to be producing at the rate of 276,000 tons of coal a year, and there is immediate demand for more than double this quantity. The 50 coke ovens originally contemplated have been increased to 100, and 127 more are under construction. This coke product is now displacing the West Virginia coke hitherto imported by Mexican smelters. Mexican industries have been importing about three-quarters of their coal from the United States.

James F. Gardner, vice president of the Erie Railroad Coal Company, is president of this concern. The general superintendent is Edward Ludlow, formerly superintendent of the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf coal properties.

New Metal Combination.

The conference of important lead, silver and gold producing interests, which began in Denver today, calls attention to the fact that after their recent meeting in this city, a number of the Utah, Colorado and Idaho delegates got together and decided to form an association of their own. This Denver meeting is the first definite step in that direction. The aims of the association will be to regulate output and generally to improve the conditions of producers by lessening the cost of production, refining and marketing lead, silver and gold. The advisability of erecting a smelter for treating the ores of association members is one of the important questions that will come up for discussion.

Steel Corporation Meeting.

The first annual meeting of the United States Steel Corporation will be held on February 17, in the New Jersey offices at Hoboken. Among the matters on which the stockholders are expected to act are the approval of amendments to the bylaws and the ratification of all contracts, proceedings, appointments and transactions of the executive and financial committees since the organization of the corporation. Under this head will be included the transactions with the underwriting syndicate, involving three agreements with J. P. Morgan & Co., dated respectively March 1 and April 1, 1901, and January 3, 1902, the last being an agreement of final settlement in release. Eight directors are to be elected to serve for three years, and auditors will be elected and chosen to audit the books and accounts of the corporation at the close of the fiscal year. The transfer books close January 25.

First Southern Steel Rail Mill.

At the offices of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company advices have been received from Birmingham saying the new steel rail mill at Ensley, having been subjected to expert tests, is now ready to be operated. It will begin turning out steel rails for trunk line properties within the next week. This is the first steel rail mill in the south. Its principal customers will be the Southern railroad and the Louisville & Nashville.

The mill has convertible features highly valuable to a company newly entering into the steel rail business. When not rolling rails it can be put to entirely different kind of work.

Inside interests of the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company say general business is highly satisfactory. Earnings have been at the rate of 18 per cent on the stock, they say, and the money is being put back into the property as fast as possible. This policy will be continued for some time in order to bring the plants up to the highest state of efficiency before the resumption of dividends. It is said no dividend will be declared until the management feels absolutely certain that they can be maintained under all conditions.

Glasgow Steel Rumor Denied.

The Cable story from Glasgow saying the United States Steel Corporation has bought one of the big Scotch steel concerns and is negotiating for others, is positively denied by officials of the combine. The naive statement in this cable report, that with the Scottish steel manufacturers it is simply a matter of getting their price for their properties, as they are sufficiently tired of competition and trades union tyranny to wish to get out of the business, excited amusement among those who really know what the United States Steel Corporation is doing and intends to do abroad.

It was impossible to get any authoritative information here regarding the reported purchase of the John H. Palmer plant at Muncie, Ind., by the United States Steel Corporation for $250,000 cash. By unofficial interests the report is regarded as probable.

E. W. HARDEN.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The strength which developed in yesterday's stock market failed to persist today. With the urgent demand from the shorts satisfied, the buying became apathetic. The selling was very light, but was not well absorbed and the market moved in a sluggish and irregular way all day. The rather acute weakness which was manifest earlier in the week was not renewed and there was some appearance of support on the declines. This and the positive strength of a few stocks in the list steadied the tone after declines had reached considerable figures and resulted in recoveries. The general level of prices did not get far from last night's level on the recovery and the market became irregular again at the closing.

Capital Holding Back.

There is an element among stock operators which holds the theory that large reserves of capital are in the hands of investors ready to flow into securities the moment the downward course of prices is seen to have gone far enough. This class hoped that the support afforded the market yesterday would resolve the doubts of the owners of this waiting capital, and that it would flow into the stock market, but the commission houses this morning failed to reflect any notable increase in their orders for execution. The opening advances quickly came to a standstill. Sharp weakness in Manhattan helped the reactionary tone, that stock dropping during the morning to 134⅝.

Manhattan Sold Freely.

Speculators in the stock have been fed with the hope that an arrangement for an interchange of traffic with the New York Central was impending as a consequence of the disaster in the Park avenue tunnel. As yesterday's statement by the New York Central directors of their plans for terminal improvements gave no corroboration to the reported plan for interchange with Manhattan, that stock was sold freely by the speculators. There was much discussion in a general way of the recent new bond and stock issues by various railroad companies, and the effect of this discussion was unfavorable to speculation.

Money Market Easy.

Recent heavy outlays by railroad companies were supposed to be a forestallment of necessary charges for betterments and to promise future curtailment of expenses and the consequent maintenance of net profit in future periods of less prosperity. The current tendency to increase capital issues has disturbed this feeling of security over the future. The process of piling up reserves in the New York banks, which seems to have gained much headway during the week, failed entirely to stimulate speculation. The money market continued easy and sterling exchange showed no advance. The maintenance by the Bank of England of its 4 per cent discount rate may be regarded as a fair notice of its intention to attempt to lift the open market rate.

England's Reserve Strong.

The bank's reserve is very strong, and the market is practically free of indebtedness to the institution, which would prompt its governors, in their capacity as private bankers, to lower the rate and secure business, but in their semi-public capacity and looking to the coming issue of a government loan, it may be incumbent upon them to take measures to attract foreign gold to the English money market. There was some special strength in today's market in southwestern railroad stocks, notably in the St. Louis Southwestern, the St. Louis & San Francisco and the Texas and Pacific stocks. Sugar also showed strength.

Bonds were moderately active and firm. Total sales par value, $2,400,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The settlement, mainly in South African stocks, was the heaviest today since the time of the African boom in 1895. As a result the stock exchange was too busy to transact fresh business till the afternoon, when the African boom was renewed, being encouraged by a rumor that the British government has been controlling the Cape cable for 24 hours in connection with peace negotiations. The cable office contradicts the report, and Dutch papers allege that the premier's visit is personal and not in connection with peace negotiations. Nevertheless consols spurted ⅛ to 94⅝. Rio Tintos jumped on an advance of ½ in the metal. The copper fortnightly statement shows a decrease in stocks of 299 tons and an increase in supplies of 62 tons. # Chicago Brokers Fear Failures

GRAIN MARKET ACTUALLY MAD ON MARGINS

Brokers Were Fearful That They Might Be Caught in Other Failures.

THE BULLS WERE ACTIVE

Wheat Was Exceedingly Nervous and Erratic and the Outside Markets Were Also Depressed—Corn Demoralized Under Liquidation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 16.—The grain pits went margin mad today. Ever since the raid on Phillips last Monday brokers have been demanding margins to the limit for fear they might be caught in other failures. Rumors that several firms were in dire straits were circulated late yesterday on the curb, some say with a view to depressing prices. Bears seized these rumors today as cudgels to beat down the weaklings and succeeded in raiding prices. Bulls, however, jumped at the opportunity to buy in at the low prices and with heavy covering by the shorts, supported the market to a fairly steady tone. May wheat closed unchanged, May corn ⅝c lower and May oats ¼c down. Provisions lost a shade to 20c.

Wheat Was Nervous.

Wheat was exceedingly nervous and erratic most of the session. The opening was badly depressed on yesterday's curb weakness and lower cables. May opened excited, ¼c to ⅞c lower, at 80c to 79⅝c. Heavy liquidation was occasioned by a general call for increased margins. More stuff was thrown out than could be readily absorbed, and the pit early ruled very weak. But as no failures were reported at the opening a better feeling began to spring up and on liberal buying prices advanced to 80⅛c again. Just before clearing house hour, rumors were rife again that several houses would not be able to settle and selling orders came from the country with a rush. Bears pounded hard and the result of the commission house raid was a quick drop to 78⅞c.

Outside Markets Depressed.

The outside markets were also depressed, confidence for the time seemed lost, and Liverpool declined steadily. Everything indicated a further demoralized condition of this pit, when buying at these low prices set in on all hands. May struggled bravely against the concerted bear action and gradually rallied to last night's closing prices. Confidence was restored when the clearing house reported all houses settled and May closed steady, unchanged to 80⅛c. Local receipts were 41 cars. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 440 cars, making a total for the three points of 481, against 523 last week and 371 a year ago. Primary receipts were 521,000 bu. compared with 363,000 bu last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 357,000 bu.

Corn Demoralized.

Corn was demoralized under the continued liquidation of outside longs. The southwest was the chief source of selling. Cables were lower and the early weakness from false rumors brought a jagged opening, ⅝c to 1⅛c lower, at 63⅛c to 62⅝c. Nearly every house continued to make heavy calls for margins and discouraged holders. On the break active covering by shorts and some long buying influenced a fair rally, May selling to its top price of 63½@63⅝c, when wheat broke a second time, corn sagging badly to 62⅛c. As in wheat, there was a revival of confidence, but the depression was too much to overcome by the late demand. Cash markets were slow and May closed weak, ⅝c lower at 63⅛c. Receipts were 115 cars.

Trade Was Not Heavy.

Oats shared in a measure the panicky feeling in corn and wheat. Trade was not heavy, the interest in the other pits detracting from this. Outside liquidation depressed prices and May opened ⅜c to ¼c lower at 44⅝c, but professional support and short covering brought a rally to the higher opening price. May closed fairly steady, ¼c lower at 44⅝c. Receipts were 177 cars.

Provisions ruled lower, following grains. The opening was badly depressed and felt the added influence of a poor hog market at the yards. Commission houses sold liberally and prices were only supported by considerable buying by packers. May pork sold between $16 80 and $16 97½ and closed 20c lower at $16 87½; May lard touched $9 37½ and closed 2½c lower at $9 67½, and May ribs closed a shade lower at $8 60.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 25 cars; corn, 80 cars; oats, 130 cars; hogs, 31,000 head.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Coffee futures opened steady with prices 10 to 15 points lower under the usual of late bearish influences. Cables from all foreign markets indicated great weakness; Brazilian receipts at port and interior towns still keep ahead of the movement looked for at this season, while the inquiry for spot supplies in the local field remains light and the market depressed. The feature of trading was again found in the heavy unloading of long coffee by discouraged holders, which continued all the session. Brief reactions occurred on profit-taking by room and public shorts, but sentiment at the close was very bearish. The net loss for the day was 10 to 15 points, and the final undertone steady. Total sales amounted to 73,750 bags, including February at 6.05c; March at 6.15@6.20c; April at 6.25c; May at 6.35c; June at 6.40c; July at 6.50c; September at 6.55@6.70c; October at 6.75c; December at 6.85@6.90c.

Foreign Bourses.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—Settlement payments increased the demand for money today and the plentitude weakened discounts. Business on the stock exchange opened cheerfully, but there were few transactions. It was the busiest settlement pay day for the past three years, owing to the Kaffir revival. Consequently the Kaffir section was much less crowded and the activity there was less keen than for the last three days. Nevertheless, there was a strong undertone and the leading shares were higher. Rand shares were in request. Consols were firm on persistent peace talk. Brazilians hardened. Home rails were generally supported. Americans opened firm at parity, improved somewhat, became inactive and irregular later, and closed quiet and steady. Rio Tintos were in better demand. Copper was firmer. There was fair trade in the decrease in the Liverpool and Swansea stocks by 680 tons and the metal closed strong at 47⅝.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Prices opened firm on the bourse today. Later realizations caused a reaction and at the close the market was generally calm. Rentes were dull. Spanish 4s commenced firm and finished easier. Russian industrials were lower. Rio Tintos made a good recovery and closed very firm on large purchases for London account. DeBeers were offered during the day, but, after the close of regular business, they were in active demand, Kaffirs participating in the movement. The private rate of discount was unchanged today at 2 13-16 per cent.

PAY YOUR TAXES AND CAST YOUR VOTE.

All taxes must be paid on or before next Saturday. That is the last day on which a tax receipt can be issued that will qualify a citizen to vote at the February city election. Voters will do well to give their immediate attention to this, for the law says no man can vote who has not paid a state or county tax within two years and at least thirty days before election day.

Little Germany District Improving

Operations in the "Little Germany" district in Marshall county, W. Va., are somewhat encouraged with the last two wells drilled into the sand in that territory. About midway between the "Little Germany" district and the Cameron district to the northeast, Benedum Bros. have drilled in their No. 2 on the D. Bonar farm, located on Fish creek, Meade district, and have as good a producer as has been found in that territory. The well produced 110 barrels the first 24 hours after it was drilled in, and has not been completed. The Bonar farm adjoins the Widow Corbly on which the South Penn drilled in a test well last week that is still holding up at 100 barrels a day.

South of the Salem development in Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its important test well on the J. M. Pratt farm into the Gordon and has a producer. The well produced 15 barrels the first 15 hours, and is still drilling. This well shows quite a liberal extension to the south, and will be the incentive for starting some new work in that locality.

On the west side of the southwest extension to the Wolf Summit field, the same company while drilling its No. 2 on the Brohard farm from the stray to the fifth sand developed a pay streak in the bottom of the Gordon, and the well is producing 70 barrels a day.

In the fifth sand development north of Bealls Mills, Lewis county, J. M. Guffey & Co. have drilled their No. 13 on the James Cox farm through the Gordon and have a light show of oil. No. 12 on the same farm is drilling in the stray sand. The South Penn Oil Company's No. 17 on the T. R. Reynolds farm is drilling in the same formation.

Northeast of the Gantz sand pool on Fink creek, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 2 on the Thomas Fahey farm into the sand and has a show of oil. No. 1 on this farm was drilled in last summer and led to the conclusion that a northeast extension had been discovered. A number of test wells have been drilled since then, but Nos. 1 and 2 on the Brohard are the only ones that proved to be producers.

On Richwood run, Wetzel county, H. L. Smith & Co. have drilled their No. 3 on the J. D. Morgan farm into the Gordon sand and have a show for a 20-barrel pumper. This was formerly a producer in the Big Injun sand, but failed and was then drilled down to the lower formation. In the same district, the Philadelphia Company has shot its No. 18 on the John Mills tract, and increased its production to 130 barrels a day. This is the third or fourth time this well has been torpedoed.

On Sugar creek, Meade district, Tyler county, the American Oil Development Company has drilled its No. 11 on the T. D. Mahan farm through the Cow Run sand and has a 15-barrel pumper.

On Bens run, Union district, Schlagel & Freid have drilled their test well on the Mary A. Massy farm through the Big Injun sand and have a small producer of black oil. The same company's No. 7 on the R. P. Johnson farm is holding up at 130 barrels a day from the Cow Run sand.

On the Ohio side in the Keener sand development, near Graysville, Monroe county, the Southern Oil Company and Longfellow Bros. have completed their No. 3 on the Samuel Gray farm and have a 30-barrel producer.

Local Developments.

In the Legionville development in Beaver county, W. W. Vensel has drilled in his No. 4 on the William & Margaret Emerick farm and has a show for a 25 or 30-barrel producer.

Snyder & Co. have drilled their No. 1 on the Hennick farm, formerly a gasser, through the 100-foot and have a 25 or 30-barrel producer. McCann & Co. are drilling No. 2 on the Ahmer farm.

In the Turkey-foot field in Beaver county the Hanover Oil Company has drilled its test well on the Braden heirs' farm through the sand and has a duster.

In the Speechley sand district in Butler county the Associated Producers Company has drilled in a test well on the W. H. Campbell farm that is looking good for that territory. The well filled up 100 feet in 9 hours. The location of this well is one-half mile west of the well drilled by Phillips & Co. on the Bell farm and about 1½ miles southwest of Guffey & Galey's test on the Pisor farm. If the Campbell farm test proves as good as indicated, it will open quite an extension.

In the Mars district, the American Drilling Company has completed its test well on the Nettie Campbell farm and has a small pumper.

FIRED FOUR SHOTS WHILE HOLDING VICTIM

This Is Part of the Testimony in the Henry Taylor Murder Case.

ONE JUROR'S PREJUDICE

Story of a Row in a Penn Avenue Saloon Which Ended in the Death of Edward Sewall—Greek Servant Girl's Troubles.

Henry Taylor was placed on trial in the criminal court yesterday afternoon charged with the killing of Edward Sewall in a saloon at No. 3057 Penn avenue on August 13 last. The case is in the hands of District Attorney John C. Haymaker for the commonwealth and Attorney William M. Price for the defense. The case was called about 3 o'clock and one hour was spent in selecting the jury. Fred Adolph, given on the jury panel as a machinist of the Eleventh ward, Pittsburgh, when asked by District Attorney Haymaker if he was prejudiced against capital punishment, answered that he was and added that he would convict no man of murder of the first degree unless he himself saw the murder committed. He was dismissed.

Dr. Joseph C. Boggs, who examined Sewall's wounds, testified that he found six wounds on Sewall's body which were made by three bullets, all of which penetrated the body, and that his death was due to hemorrhages.

D. B. Jackson, who saw the shooting, testified that he was in the saloon on August 13 and saw them talking together and heard Taylor ask Sewall to go to the back yard, but heard nothing more of the conversation. At this time Jackson said he started to leave the saloon. As he went out the door he heard a shot, and turning around saw Taylor holding Sewall with his left hand and with a revolver in his right hand shooting at him. He testified that four shots were fired.

With the completion of this witness the court adjourned until this morning.

The Greek populace of Allegheny was present in criminal court yesterday. The trial of Fedot Soxolo and Emma Soxolo, accused of larceny by the wife of Rev. Jan Nedzelinsky, pastor of the Russian Greek Catholic church of Woods Run, took place, but after the jury was out for several hours it was unable to agree and was discharged.

The Nedzelinskys visited Europe about a year ago, leaving Soxolo to take care of their home in Allegheny. Upon their return many articles were missing from the home, such as wearing apparel, a $15 thermometer and some Russian money. It was testified some of the articles were seen upon Mrs. Soxolo's person.

For the defense it was claimed that these articles were presented to the woman by the minister. The latter denied that he had done this. He said further that he married the Soxolos. The case tried yesterday was one of a number of suits that were entered.

Frank Feimer of Pittsburgh was discharged from bankruptcy.

Fully 92 persons took out naturalization papers yesterday, of which the majority were from Ireland.

J. D. and Bridget McDonough were awarded $1,200 damages against the city of Pittsburgh for damages to property.

Martha McConkey filed a petition asking that a commission in lunacy appointed for her be dismissed, as she is now in her right mind.

The will of Elizabeth Russell was filed. An estate, the value of which is not estimated, is left to the decedent's children. Attorney Charles T. Moore represents the estate.

In the United States district court an argument was had yesterday in the case of Speer C. Nelson, bankrupt, before Judge Joseph Buffington on a claim of the landlord for rent.

Mary Guentner sued the Consolidated Traction Company for $25,000 damages for the death of her husband, who died January 11, 1902, from injuries received by being struck by a car at Pine Creek.

In the suit of John Morgan and John J. Morgan against the Pittsburgh and Birmingham Traction Company, verdicts aggregating $4,100 were rendered for the plaintiffs for injuries received by John J. Morgan in being struck by a car.

The following letters of administration were granted yesterday: South Side Trust Company on the $1,100 estate of Jacob Aubel; Joseph L. Lytle on the $2,550 estate of John Nicklas; William T. Wallace on the estate of Farrelly Aluen, not estimated.

Executions were issued as follows: Oakland Building and Loan association vs. George E. Hardy et al., $1,578 26; Agnes I. Hull vs. Margaret Stambaugh, $1,312 90; John C. Devenny, use, vs. Charles H. Siedle et ux., $1,369 26; Pittsburgh Brewing Company vs. John Schultz, $1,950; same vs. same, $800.

The master in the divorce case of Walter E. Saeger against Elizabeth W. Saeger recommended that a decree be granted. They were married June 1, 1898, and lived at Waterford. Saeger says that when he went to Meadville his wife refused to accompany him, remarking that she would rather live with her parents.

A statement was filed in the case of Margaret Rudolph against J. M. Kidd & Co. for $10,000 damages for the death of her husband. The latter was employed by the defendant company, which is in the poultry business on Liberty avenue, and it is alleged that upon November 23, 1899, he fell into a boiler of hot water, which caused his death.

Samuel W. Blackstock and his wife, Frances M. Blackstock, entered suit against the city of Allegheny to recover damages aggregating $15,000 for alleged injuries received by Mrs. Blackstock on the Island avenue bridge. On the evening of November 9, 1901, Mrs. Blackstock was riding in a baker's wagon driven by Christ Zehr, and about the middle of the bridge, it is said, the wagon caught in one of the rails on the structure and she was thrown out and seriously hurt.

In the court of quarter sessions, Judge Marshall Brown presiding, Henry Werries of Knoxville borough was given privilege to transfer his liquor license from 103 Amanda avenue to 107 Southern avenue. Conrad Baur, the owner of the house which Mr. Werries occupies at present, contested the transfer on the ground that his property, which was built for hotel purposes, would practically be ruined. Mr. Bauer intends applying for a license at the next term of court.

WILL CELEBRATE ITS ANNIVERSARY

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR SOCIETY WILL BE 21 YEARS OLD.

Appropriate Exercises Will Be Held in Churches on Sunday, February 2. Founder Is Still Living and Will Rejoice at Result of His Labors.

The twenty-first anniversary of the foundation of the Christian Endeavor society in America will be celebrated Sunday, February 2, in nearly all the churches of the Protestant denomination in the United States. There are a few denominations, particularly the Baptist and Lutheran, which, while not in a strict sense inimical to this body, have never encouraged it in their churches. In these probably there will be no special services. In this city, however, there are very few exceptions, the great good done by this organization having been felt in every section of Allegheny county, so that here the celebration will be on a scale becoming to this organization and its aims.

The pastors of the various churches have already announced their intention of arranging a program of special services for the occasion and in many churches eminent preachers will be engaged to deliver a sermon on the great results of the Christian Endeavor movement in this country.

Founding of Order.

The Young People Society of Christian Endeavor was founded 21 years ago in a Maine village by the Rev. Francis E. Clark, D. D. Dr. Clark, who is now in Boston, is as ardent in his work as he was when he first entered the ministry. The interest in this celebration is second only to the fifteenth annual and first biennial convention of the State Christian Endeavorers, which is to be held in this city July 8 and 9 next.

This event will bring together one of the largest religious bodies that has convened in this city for many years. Delegates will be present from every city, village and hamlet in this state and also large representations from Ohio and West Virginia. It is expected there will be at least 10,000 delegates registered.

The first preliminary meeting of the convention committee was held last night in the parlor of the Y. M. C. A., Penn avenue and Eighth street, Mr. J. C. Reed presiding. It was decided that this committee meet the third Thursday of every month until every detail for the event is completed.

May Meet at Expo.

It was reported that the management of the Exposition society would notify the chairman next week whether it was possible to have the galleries in the music hall finished in time to allow the convention to meet there. The following is the revised list of the general convention committee, sub-divided into committees on badges, churches and the like: J. C. Reed, the Rev. J. T. McCrory, the Rev. J. W. Righter, the Rev. W. H. McMillen, the Rev. W. A. Jones, the Rev. R. J. Young, Dr. W. A. Russell, F. J. Kress, Mrs. Jean Eggers Hay, Miss Blanche Wachob, S. K. Hammers, J. H. Stauff, John J. Bollen, John L. Moore and Fred C. Britain.

There is nothing of a law-making nature to come before the convention, as it is not a legislative body. The convention is intended as a source of general good to the entire body through its delegates. The Christian Endeavor union was founded principally as a stimulus to aid young people of all denominations in practicing their faith and aiding as best they may to bring others into the fold of Christ.

WANTS TO INTERVENE.

Allegheny College Takes Action in Dissolution of Pittsburgh Female College.

In common pleas court No. 2 yesterday a petition was filed by Durbin Horne, president of the board of trustees of Allegheny college at Meadville, asking leave to intervene in the matter of the dissolution of the Pittsburgh Female college. It is set forth that the Allegheny college possesses five shares of stock in the Pittsburgh Female college, and that the Pittsburgh conference of the Methodist Episcopal church is one of the bodies that exercises control over both institutions. It is further set forth that the Allegheny college is fully able to carry out the trust of the Pittsburgh Female college, and in conclusion the court is asked to direct that the income of the fund on hand by the Pittsburg Female college be paid to the Allegheny college.

Mistake in a Name.

Through an error the name of the plaintiff, W. A. Downing, was substituted for the defendant, Thomas McClelland, who was convicted of nuisance in refusing to leave street car tracks in McKeesport. This correction is made in justice to Mr. Downing.

If you find a cold creeping on, keep a bottle of Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant near at hand, and take a dose occasionally. It will relieve at once, and soon bring about a cure.

RAPID WORK ON LAKE ERIE'S NEW SAFETY DEVICES

ELECTRIC SWITCHES AND BLOCK SIGNALS

Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Is Rapidly Getting Its New Automatic Safety Devices in Operation.

Work was started yesterday on the third interlocking plant of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie. It is to be at the passenger station and will operate the tracks for about one mile. The Taylor Signal Company of Buffalo has been awarded the contract.

Like the two interlocking plants at the McKees Rocks yards of the company, the third will be operated entirely by electricity. Great simplicity is claimed for it, and the interference due to valves and fittings getting out of order or freezing is reduced to a minimum.

The plant at Fleming park at the west end of the McKees Rocks yards has been put into service, and next week the one at the east end of the yards will be completed. The one at the station will be ready for use about March 15.

Rapid progress is being made also on the electric block signals on the Lake Erie. Practically all are in place between Pittsburgh and Beaver Falls, the signals being on poles beside the tracks. From Beaver Falls to West Ellwood junction, where four tracks are either laid or being laid, the signals are on bridges across all four tracks. As fast as four tracks are put down on the other parts of the line the poles will be replaced by bridges.

Passes Likely on Trunk Lines.

There are a number of indications of weakening in the anti-exchange pass agreement among the trunk lines. The complete failure of the plan west of Pittsburgh and Buffalo and the outspoken hostility of western managers to the whole scheme have frightened a number of the weaker eastern lines, which find it easier to make friends by favors than to obtain patrons by force. The Grand Trunk and the Erie are both considered doubtful factors in the case and no surprise would be felt if both broke over and offered their passes through trunk-line territory. One break means a break all along the line.

H. V. P. TAYLOR,
Assistant General Passenger Agent of Wabash.

Joint Service Opens.

Two important matters, which have heretofore lacked official notice, are given in the January edition of the official railway guide. One is the fact that the through service of the Lake Shore and the Vandalia from Toledo to St. Louis via the old Eel River road has been started. The purchase of the Eel River division of the Wabash made this joint service in rivalry of the Wabash's short line possible.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie is shown as an integral part of the Wabash system on the new map, a consideration which has not reached the stage of affecting the operating department.

IMPROVEMENTS ARE PLANNED FOR B. & O.

Line to Be Double-Tracked and Mountain to Be Tunneled Between Dawson and Layton.

The engineers of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad are busily engaged on the first of the great improvements to be inaugurated by the new management of the road. President L. F. Loree and his assistants have determined that the Pittsburgh division of the road is in need of improvement and engineers are already far advanced on the general plans for the work.

The road is to be double-tracked along its whole length. From Pittsburgh to Versailles there will be four tracks.

Between Layton and Dawson, where the sharpest curve and heaviest grade on the western end of the division unite to make it the most dangerous spot for many hundred miles, a change of route is planned. After carefully looking over the ground the engineers have come to the conclusion that the only way to get around the danger is to tunnel from Layton to Dawson and avoid both curve and the heaviest part of the grade. Plans are now being prepared for this work, which can be carried on without interfering at all with the regular traffic on the road.

New Seaboard Man Trained Here.

The recent promotion of L. E. Chalenor to the assistant general freight agency of the Seaboard Air Line to succeed A. Pope at Savannah has been heard with pleasure in Pittsburgh, where Mr. Chalenor lived for seven years. From 1892 to 1896 he was commercial agent here for the Norfolk & Western, the position now held by C. H. Kingsbury. He went from Pittsburgh to the Ohio River railroad, of which he was general freight agent. When the Baltimore & Ohio acquired that line and reduced it to a division he was made division freight agent, and from that position he went with the Seaboard.
